Lodge Gives LBJ No Hint Of Quitting

Johnson Shrugs At Talk of Any Feud with RFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he has no indication that Henry Cabot Lodge plans to leave his post as ambassador to South Viet Nam.

"If he did, I am sure he would let me know," Johnson told a nationwide radio and television audience Sunday night.
He added that the ambassador, whose political stock boomed with victory in New Hamp-shire's Republican presidential primary, has tended to business and behaved properly.

On his own side of the political fence, Johnson dismissed as "newspaper talk" reports of a rift with Atty. Gen. Robert F.
Kennedy and said he has taken Kennedy's word that he has done nothing to encourage efforts to boom the attorney general for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Johnson said he hopes the Democrats will not campaign actively until after this summer's convention, although he said he intends to "carry out some commitments that President Kennedy made for fundraising dinners from time to time."

Politics and foreign policy dominated the hour-long "Conversation with the President" broadcast by the ABC, CBS and NBC radio and television networks. These were among the chief executive's other major pronouncements:

—He has had no contact with his old friend, Bobby Baker, since Baker resigned in October as secretary to the Senate's Democrats. The President said Baker could not properly be called his protegee because "he

Cigarette 'Trial' Opens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission opens hearings today on its proposal to tag every pack of cigarettes with a health warning.

FTC Chairman Paul Dixon is the leadoff witness, to be followed over three days by representatives of the tobacco industry and tobacco workers, governors of tobacco-growing states, physicians and public health officials.

In the wake of the surgeon general's report Jan. 11 that cigarette smoking is a hazard to health, the commission proposed that every cigarette advertisement and every cigarette package carry this warning:
"Caution: Cigarette smoking is dangerous to health. It may cause death from cancer and other diseases."

OSU Will Help You To Quit Smoking

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —
The Ohio State University

ducted by Dr. J.A. Whieldon, chiatry, and F. W. Hudgins, state coordinator for the five-

Starting Sunday, five even-

Ruby To Appeal Death Verdict

"APPEAL! APPEAL!" — Soon after he pierced the courtroom with the words "Appeal! Appeal!" upon hearing the jury's verdict in the Jack Ruby murder trial, Melvin Belli, Ruby's chief counsel tells reporters of his dissatisfaction with Dallas justice. The San Francisco attorney called the verdict a "victory for bigotry as he declared, "We'll appeal this to a court where we can get due justice and law."

DALLAS (AP) — Jack Ruby remained alone in a jail cell today while his attorneys prepared to appeal the verdict of a Dallas jury which sentenced him to death for murder.

"Maximum security" surrounds Ruby, Sheriff Bill Decker said.

But Ruby's attorney, Melvin Belli, said he is worried about a possible attempt on Ruby's life and has asked for extra protection for him.

"Later on," Decker said,
"when he has adjusted to the jolt of the verdict, he probably will be put in a large cell with other prisoners. He's had maximum security from the beginning and he will continue to have it in jail."

Dallas authorities refused to "dignify by comment" a statement Belli has made several times since Ruby was convicted.
Saturday morning of killing Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Escaping Gasoline Causes Cincy Alarm

CINCINNATI (AP) — Thousands of gallons of gasoline flowed out of a pipeline along Cincinnati's River Road here today causing a serious fire threat and a massive traffic jam.

Police said a cutoff valve on a pipeline failed to function and the gasoline started pouring out.
Police reports were that much of it formed in what was described as a basin-like low place but a large part also flowed into the flood-swollen Ohio Riv-

Barber To Close Shop as Racial Fuss Flares Anew near Xenia

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Lewis Gegner, a college town barber who has been arrested or in court 29 times since 1960 because he refuses to cut the hair of Negroes, says he is closing his shop indefinitely.

Gegner's decision was made on the eve of today's preliminary hearing for the first of some 110 persons arrested during a near-riot at his Yellow Springs shop Saturday.

Those arrested—86 men, 21 women and a few juveniles—were jailed under $500 bond.
Most chose to remain in jail until today's hearing before Common Pleas Court Judge Herman Weber.

Gegner's most recent case,
meanwhile, is before the Ohio Supreme Court. It concerns his appeal from an appellate court ruling which held his actions in violation of the state's public accommodation law.

Gegner, obviously shaken by Saturday's demonstration, told The Associated Press the move does not mean he is giving up
"but is being made for the safety of my wife and son and the dignity of the community."

Gegner said he would have closed his shop that morning had he known that a demonstration of such intensity was coming. Tear gas and fire hoses were used by police in an effort to disperse the demonstrators, mostly students from Antioch College at Yellow Springs and Wilberforce University and Central State College, both at nearby Wilberforce.

The huge demonstration was prompted by a court injunction approved last Friday limiting the number of pickets at the shop to three at a time and to an area five feet wide and 19 feet long in front of the shop.

Those arrested were charged with contempt of court for violating the injunction.

Asked what he planned to do while the shop was closed, the barbering veteran of 38 years
said:

"I plan to find out what officials at Antioch, Central State and Wilberforce plan to do about their students breaking the law."

Withholding Shortages Are Explained

Smaller Refunds
For Many Slated
On 1964 Returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of changes and delay in enacting the tax cut law, the taxes withheld from paychecks will fall about $800 million short of meeting the actual 1964 tax bills of Americans.

Millions of taxpayers will get smaller refunds than usual a year from now, and a good many — especially in middle and upper income brackets — will owe Uncle Sam more money.

The Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service are being bombarded with questions about why this "under-withholding" happened, what it means to individual taxpayers and the economy in general, and why steps were not taken to avoid the discrepancy.

Here are some of the questions and the answers given by tax officials and other experts:

Q: Are all taxpayers being
"under-withheld"?

A: No, not nearly all. For the great majority of taxpayers, especially at lower-income levels, the withholding will cover tax liability. More people will get refunds than will have to pay extra.

Q: Which ones are likely to feel the pinch?

A: In general, those with incomes upward of $9,000 to $10-000 a year. The higher the salary, the less likely that withholding will be adequate.

Q: How hard will it hit?
A: At $15,000 income, a married taxpayer with two children and $2,500 of itemized deductions was underwithheld $5 for 1963. For 1964, even though his taxes are lower, he will be about $165 under-withheld.

Q: Why does it happen?
A: The withholding rate is now only 14 per cent. The actual tax rate is higher; and since it becomes progressively steeper at higher income levels, the gap widens as income increases.

Famed Scott Key Flag Reproduced

BALTIMORE (AP) — Francis Scott Key wasn't kidding about those "broad stripes" when he wrote the Star-Spangled Banner in 1814.

The flag which withstood the British bombardment of Fort McHenry in Baltimore and inspired Key to write the song that became the National Anthem had stripes two feet wide.

Seventy-five Maryland women have used more than three miles of thread and about 500-000 stitches in reproducing the flag, reputed to be the largest American flag ever flown in battle. The banner measures 42 feet by 30 feet and weighs 75 pounds.

When the flag is completed it will be displayed in the Maryland Pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

LBJ Files New Plan To Aid Needy Youth

Board Okays Initial Plan For Building

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners today adopted a resolution authorizing preliminary architectural services for construction of a new County Welfare Department building at the Pickaway Fairgrounds.

According to the commissioners, money for the new building would be provided through the State Welfare Department. They said the county's responsibility will amount to furnishing the necessary land and partial cost of the preliminary planning stages.

Cost of the proposed project has been estimated in the neighborhood of $40,000. The L. E.
Eugene Swartz architect firm of Chillicothe has been authorized to prepare preliminary plans.

The county also will provide a survey of the Fairgrounds site where the building would be constructed, providing its erection is approved by the state.

DISCUSSING the proposal today with the Commission were Swartz of the architect firm and Leo Rinehart of the State Welfare Department.

Under the plan offered by the state, the county would obtain ownership of the building after 10 years. The county also would be responsible for maintenance and any future additions to the structure.

Boy, 11, Needs Kidney To Survive

a freckle-faced youngster in a Cleveland hospital who needs the donation of a kidney to give him a chance for life.

That was the plea issued Sunday night by the Northern Ohio

Foundation.

The boy is Allan Per Jr., 11, of Garden City, Mich. Allan was desperately ill when the University of Michigan Hospital referred him to the Cleveland hospital earlier this year. He was unconscious when he arrived here Feb. 1, and his blood was loaded with poison-tween Greek and Turkish Cy-troops was considered to have had a calming effect.

Prominent Dayton Flier Dies in Crash

LONDON (AP) — Lt. Stephen
P. Patterson of Dayton, Ohio, was killed in the crash of his plane Saturday in Italy, the U.S. Navy's European headquarters announced today.

Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs.
William P. Patterson of Dayton, took off from the carrier Shangri-la in the Mediterranean for a flight along the Italian coast.
Patterson was the son of one of Dayton's most prominent families.

The lieutenant's father is president of Specialty Papers Co. here and chairman of the Montgomery County Park Board.

Lt. Patterson was a fifth-generation descendant of Col.
Robert Patterson, a Dayton pioneer: a great-great-nephew of John H. Patterson, founder of the National Cash Register Co.; and a great-nephew of Lt. Frank
S. Patterson, from whom Wright Patterson Air Force Base gets part of its name. The latter was killed at the site of WPAFB on a training flight in 1918.

Young Patterson, a graduate of Exeter and Yale, had more than 100 successful landings on the carrier Independence before transfer to the Shangri-la.
Survivors include a brother and sister.

At about the same time in Yellow Springs, patrolman Richard Powell of the Springsisting arrest, disturbing the peace and assault and battery.

He claims he was jumped by

Ohio Valley Cleaning Up

Flood Is Over; Debris Remains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Ohio River continued returning to its banks today after the worst flood since 1945, leaving a trail of debris and mud behind along both banks of the stream.

People were returning to their homes in upriver towns, while residents in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois waited for the river to crest.

At Cincinnati, the river was expected to fall to 63 feet by 7 a.m. and to continue receding.
Cincinnati's flood stage is 52 feet, but little damage occurs until the waters reach about 60 feet.

Last week, they surged to 66.2 feet—highest in two decades—and more than 100,000 people were driven from their homes.

The Red Cross said more than 20,000 homes in the valley were destroyed or damaged, and, although no damage estimates are available, the flood probably cost more than $100 million. At least 10 Ohioans perished because of the flood.

Health authorities warned about possibly polluted water supplies. Roads were reported open in most river counties and schools planned to resume classes. Authorities also warned about tanks of bottled gas that were ripped away in many places, especially along tributary streams.

Thirty-five such tanks were found in one area of Falmouth, Ky. The tanks are dangerous because gas in them may explode.

The Red Cross urged people who lost their belongings in the flood to apply to rehabilitation centers being set up along the valley.

Meanwhile, some of the 12,000 persons who slept in shelters at the height of the flood remained as guests of the Red Cross.

No refugees were reported to have returned to their homes in the Cincinnati area over the weekend, but the clean-up was starting in many places where the Ohio crested earlier.

Interest Dip In Boycott

NEW YORK (AP) — The second civil rights boycott of the million-pupil public school system here today failed to draw the deep support Negroes and Puerto Ricans gave its forerunner six weeks ago.

Before attendance figures were compiled, the size of picket lines and the crowds of children entering schools showed the boycott would not equal the Feb. 3 protest during which 464,000 pupils were absent.

"There seems to be no parental support and no support by the teachers," said the leader of 20 student pickets outside the High School of Commerce in Manhattan.

The demonstration was staged by the Citywide Committee for Integrated Schools against what it calls de facto segregation in the city's 863 public schools.

Poverty War Orders Given

Job Corps Aimed At 16 to 21 Ages

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave Congress marching orders today for the war on poverty, concentrating his $962.5-million attack on helping needy young Americans.

The program to help youngsters in the 16 to 21 age bracket centers on a job corps reminiscent of the Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s.

"The years of high school and college age are the most critical stage of a young person's life," Johnson said, in a special message on poverty.
"If they are not helped then, many will be condemned to a life of poverty which they, in turn, will pass on to their children."

The job corps would enlist up to 100,000 young men, draft rejects and school dropouts, from "those whose background, health and education makes them least fit for useful work."

These young men would be removed from their slum backgrounds and placed in camps to work on conservation projects and in special job training centers for a blend of training, basic education and work experience.

Other phases of the youth program are work-training and work-study projects, federal grants to provide full or part time jobs to help youngsters stay in high school, take vocational training or work their way through college.

Coordinating the war on poverty will be a new executive agency, the Office of Economic Opportunities, which Johnson said would be headed by Sargent Shriver, "my personal chief of staff for the war against poverty."

In addition to the Job Corps, Shriver also will supervise creation of another new group, the Volunteers for America, a Peace Corps-styled body of 3-000 to 5,000 volunteers who will work in various phases of the war on poverty.

4 Americans Sentenced By Spanish

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — A Spanish civil court sentenced four Americans, a Spanish woman and a British girl to long prison terms today for the robbery-murder of a Barcelona fur-

The sentences were:
James Bell Wagner, 23, of Un-

Maria del Pilar Alfaro Velas-co, 32, Spanish mother of two daughters, 23 years;

John Joseph Hand, 40, South-

21 years each;

Nancy Karen Hand, 25, De-

Joan Douglas Bryder, 22, a Court attaches said the prison terms would be cut at least in half by an amnesty which Generalissimo Franco ordered.

The six prisoners were arrested after the slaying Nov. 17, 1932, of Francisco Robirosa, 50, in his shop. The crime netted only $33 in loot.

Smaller Refunds For Many Slated On 1964 Returns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of changes and delay in enacting the tax cut law, the taxes withheld from paychecks will fall about $800 million short of meeting the actual 1964 tax bills of Americans.

Millions of taxpayers will get smaller refunds than usual a year from now, and a good many — especially in middle and upper income brackets — will owe Uncle Sam more money.

The Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service are being bombarded with questions about why this "under-withholding" happened, what it means to individual taxpayers and the economy in general, and why steps were not taken to avoid the discrepancy.

Here are some of the questions and the answers given by tax officials and other experts:

Q: Are all taxpayers being "under-withheld"?

A: No, not nearly all. For the great majority of taxpayers, especially at lower-income levels, the withholding will cover tax liability. More people will get refunds than will have to pay extra.

Q: Which ones are likely to feel the pinch?

A: In general, those with incomes upward of $9,000 to $10,000 a year. The higher the salary, the less likely that withholding will be adequate.

Q: How hard will it hit?

A: At $15,000 income, a married taxpayer with two children and $2,500 of itemized deductions was underwithheld $5 for 1963. For 1964, even though his taxes are lower, he will be about $165 under-withheld.

Q: Why does it happen?

A: The withholding rate is now only 14 per cent. The actual tax rate is higher; and since it becomes progressively steeper at higher income levels, the gap widens as income increases.

Famed Scott Key Flag Reproduced

BALTIMORE (AP) — Francis Scott Key wasn't kidding about those "broad stripes" when he wrote the Star-Spangled Banner in 1814.

The flag which withstood the British bombardment of Fort M'Henry in Baltimore and inspired Key to write the song that became the National Anthem had stripes two feet wide.

Seventy-five Maryland women have used more than three miles of thread and about 500,000 stitches in reproducing the flag, reputed to be the largest American flag ever flown in battle. The banner measures 42 feet by 30 feet and weighs 75 pounds.

When the flag is completed it will be displayed in the Maryland Pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

LBJ Files New Plan To Aid Needy Youth

Board Okays Initial Plan For Building

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners today adopted a resolution authorizing preliminary architectural services for construction of a new County Welfare Department building at the Pickaway Fairgrounds.

According to the commissioners, money for the new building would be provided through the State Welfare Department. They said the county's responsibility will amount to furnishing the necessary land and partial cost of the preliminary planning stages.

Cost of the proposed project has been estimated in the neighborhood of $40,000. The L. Eugene Swartz architect firm of Chillicothe has been authorized to prepare preliminary plans.

The county also will provide a survey of the Fairgrounds site where the building would be constructed, providing its erection is approved by the state.

DISCUSSING the proposal today with the Commission were Swartz of the architect firm and Leo Rinehart of the State Welfare Department.

Under the plan offered by the state, the county would obtain ownership of the building after 10 years. The county also would be responsible for maintenance and any future additions to the structure.

Boy, 11, Needs Kidney To Survive

CLEVELAND (AP) — There is a freckle-faced youngster in a Cleveland hospital who needs the donation of a kidney to give him a chance for life.

That was the plea issued Sunday night by the Northern Ohio chapter of the Kidney Disease Foundation.

The boy is Allan Pert Jr., 11, of Garden City, Mich. Allan was desperately ill when the University of Michigan Hospital referred him to the Cleveland hospital earlier this year. He was unconscious when he arrived here Feb. 1, and his blood was loaded with poisons because the diseased kidneys no longer could eliminate them.

Ohio Valley Cleaning Up

Flood Is Over; Debris Remains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Ohio River continued returning to its banks today after the worst flood since 1945, leaving a trail of debris and mud behind along both banks of the stream.

People were returning to their homes in upriver towns, while residents in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois waited for the river to crest.

At Cincinnati, the river was expected to fall to 63 feet by 7 a.m. and to continue receding. Cincinnati's flood stage is 52 feet, but little damage occurs until the waters reach about 60 feet.

Last week, they surged to 66.2 feet—highest in two decades—and more than 100,000 people were driven from their homes.

The Red Cross said more than 20,000 homes in the valley were destroyed or damaged, and, although no damage estimates are available, the flood probably cost more than $100 million. At least 10 Ohioans perished because of the flood.

Health authorities warned about possibly polluted water supplies. Roads were reported open in most river counties and schools planned to resume classes. Authorities also warned about tanks of bottled gas that were ripped away in many places, especially along tributary streams.

Thirty-five such tanks were found in one area of Falmouth, Ky. The tanks are dangerous because gas in them may explode.

The Red Cross urged people who lost their belongings in the flood to apply to rehabilitation centers being set up along the valley.

Meanwhile, some of the 12,000 persons who slept in shelters at the height of the flood remained as guests of the Red Cross.

No refugees were reported to have returned to their homes in the Cincinnati area over the weekend, but the clean-up was starting in many places where the Ohio crested earlier.

Interest Dip In Boycott

NEW YORK (AP) — The second civil rights boycott of the million-pupil public school system here today failed to draw the deep support Negroes and Puerto Ricans gave its forerunner six weeks ago.

Before attendance figures were compiled, the size of picket lines and the crowds of children entering schools showed the boycott would not equal the Feb. 3 protest during which 464,000 pupils were absent.

"There seems to be no parental support and no support by the teachers," said the leader of 20 student pickets outside the High School of Commerce in Manhattan.

The demonstration was staged by the Citywide Committee for Integrated Schools against what it calls de facto segregation in the city's 863 public schools.

Poverty War Orders Given

Job Corps Aimed At 16 to 21 Ages

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave Congress marching orders today for the war on poverty, concentrating his $962.5-million attack on helping needy young Americans.

The program to help youngsters in the 16 to 21 age bracket centers on a job corps reminiscent of the Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s.

"The years of high school and college age are the most critical stage of a young person's life," Johnson said, in a special message on poverty. "If they are not helped then, many will be condemned to a life of poverty which they, in turn, will pass on to their children."

The job corps would enlist up to 100,000 young men, draft rejects and school dropouts, from "those whose background, health and education makes them least fit for useful work."

These young men would be removed from their slum backgrounds and placed in camps to work on conservation projects and in special job training centers for a blend of training, basic education and work experience.

Other phases of the youth program are work-training and work-study projects, federal grants to provide full or part time jobs to help youngsters stay in high school, take vocational training or work their way through college.

Coordinating the war on poverty will be a new executive agency, the Office of Economic Opportunities, which Johnson said would be headed by Sargent Shriver, "my personal chief of staff for the war against poverty."

In addition to the Job Corps, Shriver also will supervise creation of another new group, the Volunteers for America, a Peace Corps-styled body of 3,000 to 5,000 volunteers who will work in various phases of the war on poverty.

4 Americans Sentenced By Spanish

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — A Spanish civil court sentenced four Americans, a Spanish woman and a British girl to long prison terms today for the robbery-murder of a Barcelona furniture dealer.

The sentences were: James Bell Wagner, 23, of Union Beach, N.J., 30 years;

Maria del Pilar Alfaro Velasco, 32, Spanish mother of two daughters, 23 years;

John Joseph Hand, 40, Southfield, Mich., and James Stephen Johnston, 30, Bluejacket, Okla., 21 years each;

Nancy Karen Hand, 25, Detroit, Mich., 12 years and one day.

Joan Douglas Bryder, 22, a British librarian, 6 years.

Court attaches said the prison terms would be cut at least in half by an amnesty which Generalissimo Franco ordered.

The six prisoners were arrested after the slaying Nov. 17, 1932, of Francisco Robirosa, 50, in his shop. The crime netted only $33 in loot.

The City Loan and Savings Co. has filed a suit in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court asking the court to restrain Robert M. Chapman, 111 Seyfert Ave., from employment with the Third National Bank of Circleville.

Stock Mart Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP) — Sharp losses by rails and gains by coppers and cigarette issues featured an irregular stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Gains and losses of most key stocks went from fractions to about a point.

Growing fear of a railroad strike overhung the market and led to a severe setback for rails.

Losses of the rails were offset by coppers, which made renewed gains following further reports of price increases for copper and copper products, and by cigarette issues, which rallied following weekend publication of further reports that sales of cigarettes were recovering from the initial sharp drop on the government's report about health aspects of cigarette smoking.

Ice Cream Can Cause of Injury

Poverty War

Volunteers for America are taken from legislation now pending in Congress — the Youth Conservation Corps and the National Service Corps respectively.

Other phases of the war on poverty asked by Johnson included:

—A program of grants of up to 90 per cent for urban and rural community action programs, where local plans were drafted to utilize all available community resources, public and private, to wipe out pockets of poverty.

—Special grants and loans to help boost the incomes of sub-sistence farmers.

—Special low interest loans for investments that will provide jobs for low-income families or persons who have been out of jobs for many months, and also to small business not eligible for regular loans from the small business administration.

—Expansion of a Welfare Department program to help train and find jobs for heads of families whose children now receive payments under the aid to dependent children program.

So far, a White House source said, selection standards have not been set up for the Job Corps, nor have detailed plans been made for setting up the camps and job training center.

The source said many of the 40,000 recruited for the Job Corps in the first year would come from the backlog of more than one million already rejected by the draft as physically, mentally or psychologically unfit.

A source said an "outstanding educational leader" has been chosen to head the Job Corps, but refused to identify him.

Enlistment for the maximum two-year term of service would be voluntary.

Half of the young men recruited in the first year would be put to work in groups of 50 to 250 on "special conservation projects to give them education, useful work experience and to enrich the natural resources of the country."

The other half will go to the job training centers, where up to 5,000 will be congregated. Plans tentatively call for these centers to be located near cities with major educational facilities, so that the faculties may be used on a part-time basis.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Poverty War

Volunteers for America are taken from legislation now pending in Congress — the Youth Conservation Corps and the National Service Corps respectively.

Other phases of the war on poverty asked by Johnson included:

—A program of grants of up to 90 per cent for urban and rural community action programs, where local plans were drafted to utilize all available community resources, public and private, to wipe out pockets of poverty.

—Special grants and loans to help boost the incomes of subsistence farmers.

—Special low interest loans for investments that will provide jobs for low-income families or persons who have been out of jobs for many months, and also to small business not eligible for regular loans from the small business administration.

—Expansion of a Welfare Department program to help train and find jobs for heads of families whose children now receive payments under the aid to dependent children program.

So far, a White House source said, selection standards have not been set up for the Job Corps, nor have detailed plans been made for setting up the camps and job training center.

The source said many of the 40,000 recruited for the Job Corps in the first year would come from the backlog of more than one million already rejected by the draft as physically, mentally or psychologically unfit.

A source said an "outstanding educational leader" has been chosen to head the Job Corps, but refused to identify him.

Enlistment for the maximum two-year term of service would be voluntary.

Half of the young men recruited in the first year would be put to work in groups of 50 to 250 on "special conservation projects to give them education, useful work experience and to enrich the natural resources of the country."

The other half will go to the job training centers, where up to 5,000 will be congregated. Plans tentatively call for these centers to be located near cities with major educational facilities, so that the faculties may be used on a part-time basis.

Three Injured In Collision

Three persons suffered minor injuries in a three-car accident 10:35 a. m. Sunday at Court and Main Sts.

Cheryl Bray, 16, of 346 Meadow Lane, driver of one car, suffered mouth injuries, as did Vicki Bray, 15, a passenger.

Mathew Fullen, 3, a passenger in a car driven by Charles D. Fullen, 37, of 826 Dartmouth Drive, received injured fingers when a seat collapsed on his hand. All three of the injured were taken to Berger Hospital, police said.

The third auto was operated by Lloyd Fisher, 59, of 572 N. Pickaway St. He was not hurt.

Sgt. Turney Ross and Patrolman William Bruggs said the accident came when Miss Bray's car, headed south on Court St., struck the rear of the Fullen car which was halted for a traffic light. They said the Fullen auto then struck the rear of the Fisher vehicle.

The officers said all three cars were damaged.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sharp losses by rails and gains by coppers and cigarette issues featured an irregular stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Gains and losses of most key stocks went from fractions to about a point.

Growing fear of a railroad strike overhanging the market and led to a severe setback for rails.

Losses of the rails were offset by coppers, which made renewed gains following further reports of price increases for copper and copper products, and by cigarette issues, which rallied following weekend publication of further reports that sales of cigarettes were recovering from the initial sharp drop on the government's report about health aspects of cigarette smoking.

Ice Cream Can Cause of Injury

Robert Schoonover, 25, of 534 S. Scioto St., received emergency aid in Berger Hospital after he dropped an ice cream can, injuring his left foot. A total of three persons were treated and released during the weekend.

Terry Reed, 16, Route 4, fell while playing basketball and lacerated his forehead.

Roberta Miller, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, 811 S. Scioto St., fell at home and injured her right shoulder.

Glenn's Wife Due Tuesday

Plans were completed here today for a visit to Circleville tomorrow by Mrs. Annie Glenn, wife of Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.

Mrs. Glenn will be hosted at a tea at the Pickaway Arms from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. The hostess will be Mrs. Delbert Remy, Route 1, New Holland, assisted by other members of the Pickaway County Democratic Women's Club.

Mrs. Glenn will be accompanied by Mrs. Rene Carpenter, wife of Astronaut Scott Carpenter.

Mrs. Glenn will be pinch-hitting for her husband who will not start active campaigning for the Ohio Democratic senatorial nomination until his retirement from the Marine Corps on April 1.

Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Carpenter today visited in Lancaster, Logan and Athens. They will travel on to Chillicothe following tomorrow's trip here.

City Resident Fined After 4-Car Mishap

Delbert Giffin, 143 Highland Ave., involved in a four car accident 1:25 a. m. Sunday, was found guilty on two counts in Circleville Municipal Court today.

The charges were for driving a car when he had no valid operator's license and resisting arrest. He was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to 90 days in the county jail.

A third charge, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants, was continued by Judge Sterling Lamb, pending the results of a blood sample taken immediately following the accident.

Giffin was spotted by City Patrolman Larry Pontious in the northern end of town early Sunday, driving in a reckless manner. Pontious gave chase in the city patrol car.

Giffin turned south on Washington St. went out of the city limits and turned west on East St. Just after he turned left he hit a parked car in the side, glanced off it into another parked car, pushing it into a third car.

He and three occupants of his car started to run from the scene. Pontious caught Giffin.

The accident, since it was outside the city limits, was investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's department.

Deputy Warren Straley said cars owned by Esther Pickelsimer and David Lovett were heavily damaged, as was the car Giffin was driving. No one was injured.

Sketches of Senate Candidates

By HOWARD BENEDICT
Associated Press Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — In 1940, at the age of 19, John H. Glenn Jr. and a group of friends traveled from their homes in New Concord, Ohio, to see the sights in Washington.

They were in the spectators gallery the day the senate voted the Selective Service Act, which established a system for compulsory service in the armed forces—the draft.

“The workings of the Senate made a tremendous impression on John, an impression he never forgot,” a friend reported. “He’s been fascinated by it ever since.”

Nearly 22 years later, Glenn was back in the Senate. This time he was not among the spectators. He stood front and center where Presidents, princes and Prime Ministers had stood before him.

An extraordinary joint session of Congress cheered wildly as he told of his dramatic adventure as the first American to orbit the earth, just six days before, on Feb. 20, 1962.

Now, at 42, John Glenn seeks to return to the Senate as a member of that august law-making body. He has filed as a candidate for the Democratic nomination.

He must win a May 5 primary battle with Democratic incumbent Sen. Stephen M. Young. If he hurdles this obstacle, in November he would face a tough Republican challenger: Either Rep. Robert Taft Jr. or Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

In his political debut Glenn will relay heavily on the charm, poise, intelligence and sincerity which captivated millions around the world after his historic three-orbit space trip.

There is one thing Glenn would rather have done than serve in the Senate. He would like to have gone to the moon.

Glenn had termed his flight “a beginning, a stepping-stone in space, to the moon, to the greatest exploration of all time.”

In announcing his switch from space to politics last Jan. 17, Glenn said: “It could very well be just wishful thinking on my part to train for another six or seven years towards flights for which I might be too old.”

Glenn said he had rejected “numerous business opportunities which would have made me a millionaire if I had been interested in only money.”

“I believe President Johnson has presented a program for our nation which a majority of Americans will support. In the Senate I would hope to be able to help him reach the objectives of that program.”

To make the political plunge, Glenn retired from the Marine Corps. He held the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Glenn’s political problems include inexperience and the fact that until recently he considered himself an independent rather than a Democrat or Republican.

Glenn’s decision prompted a political realignment by his petite wife, Annie.

“I’ve been a Republican,” she confided the day Glenn announced his candidacy. “But I think now I’m on the other side. I know now I’m on the other side,” she added quickly.

Mrs. Glenn plans to campaign with her husband but she’ll divide her time between Ohio and their two children in Houston. She said David, 18, a senior, and Lyn, 16, a junior, will finish high school in the Texas city.

Annie Castor and John Glenn can’t recall exactly when they met. But it was sometime before they were 6 years old, when they were playmates in the eastern Ohio town of New Concord.

“I sort of knew we’d be married some day,” Annie recalls. The parents of both still live in New Concord. The Glenns moved there from Cambridge, Ohio, where John was born July 21, 1921.

Both John and Annie attended Muskingum College in New Concord. Glenn left school in his third year, in 1942, to become a naval air cadet. Annie finished school and worked for a year as a secretary before they were married.

During World War II, Glenn flew 59 fighter-bomber missions in the Marshall Islands campaign in the Pacific and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross three times and the Air Medal 17 times. In the Korean War, he flew 100 missions, shot down three Communist MIG planes, and received two more Distinguished Flying Crosses and two more Air Medals. After the Korean conflict, Glenn became a Marine test pilot and helped wring the bugs out of several advanced aircraft. In 1957, he became the first man to fly supersonically from Los Angeles to New York, covering the distance in 3 hours 23 minutes in an F8U jet.

In 1959, Glenn was selected as one of the United States’ seven original astronauts.

Asked why he had volunteered, Glenn flashed a twinkle from his blue eyes and equipped:

“I figured it would probably be the nearest I’d ever get to heaven.”

In a more serious vein, Glenn saw manned space flight as one of the greatest challenges of the time.

He served as backup pilot for the first U.S. Mercury astronaut flights—the brief up-and-down suborbital rocket trips of OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—More consultations are in order before the Ohio Board of Regents makes its final recommendations on two proposed state university branch campuses in northern Ohio.

In one case, that of a Kent State branch in Stark County, the question is whether it should be a technical institute or a university branch. The other involves an Ohio State University branch in north central Ohio that could be located at Mansfield, Bucyrus or some other place.

Mansfield has been asking for the branch, but other cities also have put in their claims to be considered. Robert F. Doolittle, chairman of the committee on branches, said his group was not recommending any action on either branch now.

The regents also called for release of planning funds for eight branch campuses and formally appointed Dr. John D. Millett, president of Miami, to be the board’s director-chancellor at a salary of $40,000 a year.

No action was taken on the applications of Akron and Toledo to be considered as sites for a new medical school. Dr. Harold W. Oyster, board chairman, said he had been told by the state attorney general that only the General Assembly can designate school sites—the board can only recommend.

The regents adopted a resolution commending the state universities for now operating 34 branches with 16,700 students. They said planning funds should be released for Ohio State branch campuses at Dayton and Lima. (Miami and Ohio State operate the campus at Dayton jointly.)

Oyster also said site planning funds should be made available for Ohio University branches in Belmont County and at Chillicothe, Portsmouth and Zanesville; Kent State’s branch at Ashtabula and the Miami University campus at Middletown.

The board also approved a policy of standardizing buildings on the branch campuses.

Realtor Group Plans Get-Out-Vote Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards has agreed to help the Ohio Information Committee in a non-partisan drive to get voters out for the May 5 primary and November general elections.

The OIC cited voter apathy in recent primaries in announcing that the realtors’ group will take part in efforts to get voters registered and to the polls. The Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce joined the OIC drive last month.

Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom.

Then it was Glenn’s turn to blaze an even deeper trail into space.

While millions watched on television at 9:47 a.m. on Feb. 20, 1962, a great Atlas rocket bounded skyward with a mighty shriek and rush of flame.

For five hours much of the world seemed to stand still as Glenn whirled overhead in his Friendship 7 spacecraft. People everywhere shared his anxiety when his automatic controls developed trouble. They applauded when he took over manual control—proving that man was a valuable tool in space—and skillfully steered his ship to a safe landing in the Atlantic Ocean.

It was a day a new American hero, genuine as hot dogs and apple pie, came into being.

Suddenly, the bathroom emits a chuckle, and the senator sticks his head out.

The point of the joke is that the senator faces ex-astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. in the May 5 Democratic senatorial primary in Ohio. If Young gets over that hurdle, he will face in the November election the winner of the Republican senatorial primary, U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr., or Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

Talk about being behind the eight ball. Some people think Young is behind two—first the astronaut and then perhaps a Taft and this is not to say he would regard Brown lightly as an opponent. But is he scared?

“I was the most frightened man on the Anzio beachhead in Italy in World War II,” he says. “But I’m not scared now.”

Young, a peppy bantam physically, is unusual for several reasons, including:

1. In a world where the customer (or constituent) is always right, he stands for no abuse from letter-writers. He is apt to fire back notes terming his critics ignorant of the Constitution and the American Way.

2. When he was elected to the Senate in 1958, he spread on the record a list of his stockholdings, $234,000 worth.

3. If you call him a Horatio Alger type, he will deny it. His father, Stephen Sr., was a county judge and pretty well off. Back home in Puckerbrush Township (now part of Norwalk, Ohio), the future senator never knew poverty, and he says that if he had had to work his way through college, he never would have made it.

Young stands 5 feet 8. By playing doubles tennis, he had his weight down to 154 last summer. But he is “a pushover for punkin pie” and so the weight has crept up to 158.

However, he has been working out on a weight-lifting machine in the Senate gym in preparation for the Glenn bout, and he hopes to get down to 154 again.

When he got out of Western Reserve University Law School in 1911, he planned to settle down in Norwalk to “enjoy peace and contentment.” But his bride, the former Ruby L. Dawley, was homesick for her home town, Cleveland.

“So we compromised and moved to Cleveland,” Young says.

There the young lawyer found himself with few acquaintances. He joined a church—he forgets now whether it was Methodist or Presbyterian — and taught

Sunday School.

He also joined the 22nd Ward Democratic Club, which met upstairs over Gottlieb Finkbeiner’s saloon. Young and colleagues rang doorbells.

“Ringing doorbells was safer then,” he recalls. “Nowadays, if you do it the family may resent being called away from the TV set.”

The ward went Democratic by a thumping percentage, and Young was on his way up.

The famed Newton D. Baker, then mayor of Cleveland, stood up in convention and nominated Young for the Ohio General Assembly. Young got elected.

Young’s political career—interrupted by Army service in two World Wars—includes four terms as congressman-at-large from Ohio. In 1958, he took on Sen. John W. Bricker (R), until then a fabulous vote-getter. Contrary to most everybody’s expectations, including Young’s, Bricker lost by 155,000.

Soon Young’s reputation as a senatorial letter-writer grew. When certain American Legionnaires objected to his speaking before an organization they called a Communist front, Young said there was no evidence it was a front. He wrote to a Legionnaire:

“So you self-appointed censors and self-proclaimed superduper 100 per cent America Firsters censure me . . . I repudiate your resolution, buster, and your pompous, self-righteous, holier-than-thou title of ‘Americanism chairman.’ Why don’t you as ‘Americanism chairman’ read and try to understand the cornerstone of our liberties, the Constitution of the United States?”

Young’s view is that no servant-domestic or public—should stand for abuse.

Young has known tragedy. His first wife died of cancer in 1952. Cancer also carried off his oldest son, Stephen.

There are two other children by his first marriage, a son and daughter, and five grandchildren.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — No body can get mad at President Johnson for what he said in a television-radio interview Sunday night. He saw to that. He said he wanted to be a “people’s president.”

He spent an hour assuring as many as possible about his stewardship, even to mentioning how he has the lights turned off in the White House closets to save money.

Would-be Republican presidential candidates have been critical of him, when not criticizing one another, though some times they seem to be stretching hard to find something to hit him with.

So far he hasn’t given them much excuse for criticism. Since he succeeded President Kennedy he has carefully said and done all the popular things, even to the point of some times sounding corny.

Again Sunday night he was restrained and pleasant about the Republicans, which is exactly what could be expected from a politician as good as Johnson.

At this particular time they’re not hurting Johnson, although they may be hurting one another, and the polls show he is doing fine with the public.

So there wouldn’t be much political sense in wasting shots on the small mob of would-be candidates now milling around. He can go on the offensive next summer after the Republicans finally pick their candidate.

But there is something else to be remembered in Johnson’s avoidance of direct personal assaults. This is exactly in the tradition of Presidents Kennedy and Eisenhower who found it a highly successful technique.

As a result of questions asked him about his immediate problems in taking over after Kennedy’s assassination, Johnson was able to present a picture of himself as a tireless president who doesn’t need or doesn’t get much sleep.

He said he works at a “feverish rate.” As for actual news, there wasn’t much.

But it was near the end of his interview that Johnson gave an insight into how he plays all the political angles, at home and abroad. This involves French President Charles de Gaulle, although De Gaulle wasn’t mentioned.

Johnson talked of the meeting called here today with Latin American ambassadors from the Organization of American States, along with American ambassadors to Latin America called home for this occasion.

The subject: better cooperation between this country and its southern neighbors. At this meeting Johnson will make a major speech on Latin America. He didn’t mention this Sunday night. It had been announced before.

But he makes this speech just as De Gaulle arrives in Mexico, part of his campaign to spread French influence in Latin America. His arrival, and anything he says, will make headlines all over Latin America.

He would have had them to himself if there had been no Johnson speech. Now he will have to share the headlines with the President. Some of the edge and even th purpose of his visit will be blunted.

Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom. Then it was Glenn’s turn to blaze an even deeper trail into space.

While millions watched on television at 9:47 a.m. on Feb. 20, 1962, a great Atlas rocket bounded skyward with a mighty shriek and rush of flame.

For five hours much of the world seemed to stand still as Glenn whirled overhead in his Friendship 7 spacecraft. People everywhere shared his anxiety when his automatic controls developed trouble. They applauded when he took over manual control—proving that man was a valuable tool in space—and skillfully steered his ship to a safe landing in the Atlantic Ocean.

It was a day a new American hero, genuine as hot dogs and apple pie, came into being.

Suddenly, the bathroom emits a chuckle, and the senator sticks his head out.

The point of the joke is that the senator faces ex-astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. in the May 5 Democratic senatorial primary in Ohio. If Young gets over that hurdle, he will face in the November election the winner of the Republican senatorial primary, U.S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr., or Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

Talk about being behind the eight ball. Some people think Young is behind two—first the astronaut and then perhaps a Taft and this is not to say he would regard Brown lightly as an opponent. But is he scared?

“I was the most frightened man on the Anzio beachhead in Italy in World War II,” he says. “But I’m not scared now.”

Young, a peppy bantam physically, is unusual for several reasons, including:

1. In a world where the customer (or constituent) is almighty, he stands for no abuse from letter-writers. He is apt to fire back notes terming his critics ignorant of the Constitution and the American Way.

2. When he was elected to the Senate in 1958, he spread on the record a list of his stockholdings, $234,000 worth.

3. If you call him a Horatio Alger type, he will deny it. His father, Stephen Sr., was a county judge and pretty well off. Back home in Puckerbrush Township (now part of Norwalk, Ohio), the future senator never knew poverty, and he says that if he had had to work his way through college, he never would have made it.

Young stands 5 feet 8. By playing doubles tennis, he had his weight down to 154 last summer. But he is “a pushover for punkin pie” and so the weight has crept up to 158.

However, he has been working out on a weight-lifting machine in the Senate gym in preparation for the Glenn bout, and he hopes to get down to 154 again.

When he got out of Western Reserve University Law School in 1911, he planned to settle down in Norwalk to “enjoy peace and contentment.” But his bride, the former Ruby L. Dawley, was homesick for her home town, Cleveland.

“So we compromised and moved to Cleveland,” Young says.

There the young lawyer found himself with few acquaintances. He joined a church—he forgets now whether it was Methodist or Presbyterian — and taught

Sunday School.

He also joined the 22nd Ward Democratic Club, which met upstairs over Gottlieb Finkbeiner’s saloon. Young and colleagues rang doorbells.

The ward went Democratic by a thumping percentage, and Young was on his way up.

The famed Newton D. Baker, then mayor of Cleveland, stood up in convention and nominated Young for the Ohio General Assembly. Young got elected.

Young’s political career—interrupted by Army service in two World Wars—includes four terms as congressman-at-large from Ohio. In 1958, he took on Sen. John W. Bricker (R), until then a fabulous vote-getter. Contrary to most everybody’s expectations, including Young’s, Bricker lost by 155,000.

Soon Young’s reputation as a senatorial letter-writer grew. When certain American Legionnaires objected to his speaking before an organization they called a Communist front, Young said there was no evidence it was a front. He wrote to a Legionnaire:

“So you self-appointed censors and self-proclaimed super-duper 100 per cent America Firsters censure me . . . I repudiate your resolution, buster, and your pompous, self-righteous, holier-than-thou title of ‘Americanism chairman.’ Why don’t you as ‘Americanism chairman’ read and try to understand the cornerstone of our liberties, the Constitution of the United States?”

Young’s view is that no servant—domestic or public—should stand for abuse.

Young has known tragedy. His first wife died of cancer in 1952. Cancer also carried off his oldest son, Stephen.

There are two other children by his first marriage, a son and daughter, and five grandchildren.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — No body can get mad at President Johnson for what he said in a television-radio interview Sunday night. He saw to that. He said he wanted to be a “people’s president.”

He spent an hour assuring as many as possible about his stewardship, even to mentioning how he has the lights turned off in the White House closets to save money.

Would-be Republican presidential candidates have been critical of him, when not criticizing one another, though some times they seem to be stretching hard to find something to hit him with.

So far he hasn’t given them much excuse for criticism. Since he succeeded President Kennedy he has carefully said and done all the popular things, even to the point of some times sounding corny.

Again Sunday night he was restrained and pleasant about the Republicans, which is exactly what could be expected from a politician as good as Johnson.

At this particular time they’re not hurting Johnson, although they may be hurting one another, and the polls show he is doing fine with the public.

So there wouldn’t be much political sense in wasting shots on the small mob of would-be candidates now milling around. He can go on the offensive next summer after the Republicans finally pick their candidate.

But there is something else to be remembered in Johnson’s avoidance of direct personal assaults. This is exactly in the tradition of Presidents Kennedy and Eisenhower who found it a highly successful technique.

As a result of questions asked him about his immediate problems in taking over after Kennedy’s assassination, Johnson was able to present a picture of himself as a tireless president who doesn’t need or doesn’t get much sleep.

He said he works at a “feverish rate.” As for actual news, there wasn’t much.

But it was near the end of his interview that Johnson gave an insight into how he plays all the political angles, at home and abroad.

2 Young Canoeists Dunked in Chilly River

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two Columbus youths were wet and cold but escaped serious injury Sunday when their canoe capsized in the Scioto River.

One of the boys, Thomas Holden, 16, was in the frigid water nearly an hour while his friend, Donald Stegmeier, swam to shore and ran for help. Holden was pulled from the water by two unidentified men before other help had arrived.

Parma Pair Arrested For Sales on Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP) — The manager and a clerk at the Spartan Discount Store in suburban Parma were arrested Sunday on charges of violating the Sunday closing law. The manager, Douglas E. Cobb, 34, and clerk, Miss Angela Russell, 31, were released on $200 bond pending appearance in Parma Municipal Court.

This involves French President Charles de Gaulle, although De Gaulle wasn’t mentioned.

Johnson talked of the meeting called here today with Latin American ambassadors from the Organization of American States, along with American ambassadors to Latin America called home for this occasion.

The subject: better cooperation between this country and its southern neighbors. At this meeting Johnson will make a major speech on Latin America. He didn’t mention this Sunday night. It had been announced before.

But he makes this speech just as De Gaulle arrives in Mexico, part of his campaign to spread French influence in Latin America. His arrival, and anything he says, will make headlines all over Latin America.

He would have had them to himself if there had been no Johnson speech. Now he will have to share the headlines with the President. Some of the edge and even th purpose of his visit will be blunted.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz proposes that compulsory education be extended to age 18, as a step to ease unemployment. Obviously, this would take off the unemployment rolls those youngsters 16 through 18 who have dropped out of school and are now seeking jobs.

Wirtz's goal is more long-range, however. He doesn't want merely to get these young men and women out of the labor force, but rather to upgrade their schooling and make them more employable through added education.

Working Girls Go to Town

The Business World

By Jack Lefler

NEW YORK (AP)—The business outlook took on a rosier hue last week.

It already was good but new estimates and reports enhanced it.

The stock market took note and advanced to a series of historic highs.

The major developments:

—A prediction that business will increase its investment in new plant and equipment by 10 per cent this year.

—A survey indicated that consumer confidence reached a seven-year peak in the past three months.

—Manufacturers expect a steady rise in sales through June.

—Retail sales in February increased 1 per cent over January and 4 per cent over a year earlier.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said business capital spending was expected to hit a total of $43.2 billion this year, up $4 billion from 1963. This was more than double the increase from 1962 to 1963. It will be the third consecutive year that business investment has risen.

Hodges said the income tax cut was a factor in the plans of businessmen to boost their spending.

Business investment is considered a major indicator of the economy's course because it creates new jobs.

A University of Michigan survey disclosed that consumers are in a mood for spending. Automobiles may be a possible exception.

The university survey research center's index of consumer sentiment rose to 99.0 in January-February compared with 96.9 last November.

The study called the income tax cut "a positive factor."

However, the report said that last January consumers' plans to buy automobiles were lower than a year earlier.

"The new data suggest that the automobile market may receive a smaller share of the consumer dollar in 1964 than it did in 1962 and 1963," the report added.

The Commerce Department said a survey indicated that sales by manufacturers would increase $2.1 billion in the first half of this year.

Durable goods producers expect their sales to rise from $55.3 billion in the last quarter of 1963 to $55.9 billion in the current quarter and to $56.4 billion in the second quarter.

Retail sales in February rose to $18.5 billion. A Commerce Department survey indicated that manufacturing and trading businesses expect sales to increase 6 per cent this year.

The automobile business went ahead with high production as if it hadn't heard any indication that softness might develop in sales. It turned out an estimated 164,700 passenger cars during the week, up from 161,536 the previous week and 151,140 a year ago.

Assemblies for the year rose to 1,747,185 against 1,621,099 at this time last year.

Steel output ran into a minor setback during the week for the first time in 10 weeks. Mills produced 2,312,000 tons of ingots, about 1 per cent from the previous week.

However, demand for steel remained strong and industry sources expected gains in production and shipments this month and probably through April.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Medical investigations into the unexplained death of a celebrity often bring to light health lessons from which the public would do well to take warning.

The recent death of a film star, at first attributed to "natural causes" was soon found to have been caused by unnatural and bizarre circumstances. A combination of alcohol, barbiturates and tranquilizers all circulating in the system at the same time, had severely upset the normal function of body tissues and produced cerebral edema (an accumulation of excess fluid in the brain).

Drugs command respect. All drugs have their purposes and their limitations. The health benefits to be derived from their proper use are numberless and great. But their careless and unsupervised use can do irreparable damage.

Only a physician, with his years of expert training and experience, is qualified to regulate the consumption of a drug. The dosage he prescribes must never be exceeded.

Most drugs have unique properties and vary in their effects on the body. The property and effect of a drug may be altered when it is combined with others. For this reason no more than one related drug should be taken at a time, except at the specific direction of a physician. He can determine that there will be no adverse effects from any given combination.

Barbiturates are known to interfere with the body's ability to get rid of large quantities of alcohol. This interference often results in severe depression of some of the body functions.

The all too urgent attempt to find tranquility and relief from emotional stress by the unrestricted use of drugs is fraught with danger. Even drugs which are commonly considered as "safe" or "harmless" can be potentially dangerous when taken with others or in excess of the prescribed dosage.

Medical science is constantly making tremendous contributions to the health, comfort and safety of mankind. Do not transform these gifts into destructive forces.

With drugs there is no safety in numbers.

What About the Lights?

By John Chamberlain

After Henry Cabot Lodge's stunning victory in New Hampshire, it would be foolhardy to scoff at the pulling power of the Lodge name, at least in northern New England. Even so, it is difficult to imagine Henry Cabot Lodge as being anything more than a Favorite Son candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination.

What, precisely, has Lodge got going for him as a result of the New Hampshire primary? His supporters, seeking the most telling analogy, point to Ike Eisenhower's big Granite State victory over Bob Taft in 1952, a victory which Lodge himself managed. But there is also the Kefauver analogy. Where Eisenhower went on to sweep the nation, Estes Kefauver couldn't translate a New Hampshire primary success into acceptance by the Democratic Party for first place on its national ticket.

Ike, who was, in a way, an American proconsul (NATO-style), came home from France to accept the sort of triumph that the Romans accorded their victorious proconsuls. But Lodge, as our proconsul in South Vietnam, would find it hard to cash in politically on the institution of the Triumph. One cannot doubt Lodge's anti-Communist earnestness and integrity after his first-rate performance as U. S. Ambassador to the UN, but in South Vietnam he has associated himself willingly with a Democratic policy that has yet to prove itself. If he were to return seeking a Triumph, there would be snickers, "Triumph for what?" He could not offer himself as part of a Roman success on the fringes of empire, for there has been no success. On the other hand, he is not in a position to criticize the Kennedy-Johnson record in South Vietnam, for he has been a bone-and-marrow contributor to it.

impressiveness of the Lodge success in New Hampshire. Both Goldwater and Rockefeller have been badly hurt by it. Ironically, the Lodge victory would seem to set things up for Richard Nixon. Incidentally, Nixon didn't do so badly in New Hampshire himself, considering the fact that he was supported by the feud-happy ex-Governor Wesley Powell.

DEAR SIR,

A week or so ago, someone wrote a "Letter to the Editor" saying that we might have a theater in this town if it were known that we would support one.

Does someone want a written guarantee? No other new business enjoys such consideration. The last theater here was not exactly in excellent condition or a thing of beauty.

Maybe if we had a nice, modern, air conditioned movie theater with class A pictures that are not a few years old, it might attract patrons.

Can't someone advertise in other cities that we are in need of a theater? Someone, somewhere must have the money and the desire to make a success of a theater in a city of this size.

Durable goods producers expect their sales to rise from $55.3 billion in the last quarter of 1963 to $55.9 billion in the current quarter and to $56.4 billion in the second quarter.

Retail sales in February rose to $18.5 billion. A Commerce Department survey indicated that manufacturing and trading businesses expect sales to increase 6 per cent this year.

The automobile business went ahead with high production as if it hadn't heard any indication that softness might develop in sales. It turned out an estimated 164,700 passenger cars during the week, up from 161,536 the previous week and 151,140 a year ago.

Assemblies for the year rose to 1,747,185 against 1,621,099 at this time last year.

Steel output ran into a minor setback during the week for the first time in 10 weeks. Mills produced 2,312,000 tons of ingots, off about 1 per cent from the previous week.

WHEN JUSTICE BERNARD BOTEIN was a boy in Brooklyn, there was a lady next door who took a particular interest in his progress. Every time she met his mother, she would inquire, "And what is Bernard doing now?" First the mother reported proudly, "Bernard's graduated from law school," later "he's doing a special job for Governor Lehman," still later, "he's been made senior member of a prominent law firm," finally, "he's been appointed a Justice of the New York State Supreme Court." At that, the neighbor clucked sympathetically. "Isn't it too bad," she noted, "that poor Bernie can't seem to get a steady job!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

Medical investigations into the unexplained death of a celebrity often bring to light health lessons from which the public would do well to take warning.

The recent death of a film star, at first attributed to "natural causes" was soon found to have been caused by unnatural and bizarre circumstances. A combination of alcohol, barbiturates and tranquilizers all circulating in the system at the same time, had severely upset the normal function of body tissues and produced cerebral edema (an accumulation of excess fluid in the brain).

Drugs command respect. All drugs have their purposes and their limitations. The health benefits to be derived from their proper use are numberless and great. But their careless and unsupervised use can do irreparable damage.

Only a physician, with his years of expert training and experience, is qualified to regulate the consumption of a drug. The dosage he prescribes must never be exceeded.

Most drugs have unique properties and vary in their effects on the body. The property and effect of a drug may be altered when it is combined with others. For this reason no more than one related drug should be taken at a time, except at the specific direction of a physician. He can determine that there will be no adverse effects from any given combination.

Barbiturates are known to interfere with the body's ability to get rid of large quantities of alcohol. This interference often results in severe depression of some of the body functions.

The all too urgent attempt to find tranquility and relief from emotional stress by the unrestricted use of drugs is fraught with danger. Even drugs which are commonly considered as "safe" or "harmless" can be potentially dangerous when taken with others or in excess of the prescribed dosage.

Medical science is constantly making tremendous contributions to the health, comfort and safety of mankind. Do not transform these gifts into destructive forces.

With drugs there is no safety in numbers.

What About the Lights?

After Henry Cabot Lodge's stunning victory in New Hampshire, it would be foolhardy to scoff at the pulling power of the Lodge name, at least in northern New England. Even so, it is difficult to imagine Henry Cabot Lodge as being anything more than a Favorite Son candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination.

What, precisely, has Lodge got going for him as a result of the New Hampshire primary? His supporters, seeking the most telling analogy, point to Ike Eisenhower's big Granite State victory over Bob Taft in 1952, a victory which Lodge himself managed. But there is also the Kefauver analogy. Where Eisenhower went on to sweep the nation, Estes Kefauver couldn't translate a New Hampshire primary success into acceptance by the Democratic Party for first place on its national ticket.

Ike, who was, in a way, an American proconsul (NATO-style), came home from France to accept the sort of Triumph that the Romans accorded their victorious proconsuls. But Lodge, as our proconsul in South Vietnam, would find it hard to cash in politically on the institution of the Triumph. One cannot doubt Lodge's anti-Communist earnestness and integrity after his first-rate performance as U. S. Ambassador to the UN, but in South Vietnam he has associated himself willingly with a Democratic policy that has yet to prove itself. If he were to return seeking a Triumph, there would be snickers. "Triumph for what?" He could not offer himself as part of a Roman success on the fringes of empire, for there has been no success. On the other hand, he is not in a position to criticize the Kennedy-Johnson record in South Vietnam, for he has been a bone-and-marrow contributor to it.

impressiveness of the Lodge success in New Hampshire. Both Goldwater and Rockefeller have been badly hurt by it. Ironically, the Lodge victory would seem to set things up for Richard Nixon. Incidentally, Nixon didn't do so badly in New Hampshire himself, considering the fact that he was supported by the feud-happy ex-Governor Wesley Powell.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. They must be signed by the writer with a complete return address. Dear Editor:

As we approach this Easter season, it is with a great thankfulness to God for all the wonderful things he has done for us. Perhaps at this time would be good to tell of the rebirth of a little country church.

seem very large to some of the bigger churches, but to the little country church of Hebron and the people of that community is a wonderful and reviving spirit to know the doors of this institution did not close — and it is onward bound to do the best for God.

In this Easter season may we of all faiths and all churches thank God for giving His Son for us and for all the other blessings He bestows upon us every day.

The good part is the fact newcomers were not regular attenders of any other church. However, they are very anxious to help and do their part in this little church.

Our attendance has climbed gradually until just recently we had 78 in our Sunday School service. Everyone is always welcome to attend regularly at the church. Services are every other Sunday at 8:45 a. m., Rev. Carl Wetherell officiating. Sunday School is held every Sunday at 9:30 a. m. The public is welcome to come and see what God can do for his people and his church.

There have been people of the congregation who have given of their time to help in redecorating the church. Others outside and inside the church have given donations to help the project.

Still others have helped with supplies needed for the extra attendance. It seems the hand of God must be helping this little church.

Also there have been extra activities planned. The church now has a High School Choir and a Junior Choir. Special singing by some of the members and special singing from other churches have been enjoyed.

There has been a young people's group organized and activities are planned by them. A homecoming Sunday for all persons who used to come to Hebron Methodist Church is planned for Palm Sunday.

Everybody is welcome to come and see the progress made and to worship God.

An Easter program with more than 50 young people and children is being planned. Jerry Rasmussen will be on hand for special singing and to help the young people in the Candlelight Service.

The attendance of 78 may not

DEAR SIR,

A week or so ago, someone wrote a "Letter to the Editor" saying that we might have a theater in this town if it were known that we would support one.

Does someone want a written guarantee? No other new business enjoys such consideration.

The last theater here was not exactly in excellent condition or a thing of beauty.

Maybe if we had a nice, modern, air conditioned movie theater with class A pictures that are not a few years old, it might attract patrons.

Can't someone advertise in other cities that we are in need of a theater?

Someone, somewhere must have the money and the desire to make a success of a theater in a city of this size.

Q: Wasn't the gap foreseen?

A: In the original tax cut plan it was not so large. That called for reducing the old 18 per cent withholding rate to 15 per cent in the first year and 14 per cent in 1965.

Q: Why was it changed to 14 per cent from the start?

A: Congress didn't move fast enough to get the reduction started at new year's. For two months of 1965 taxes were withheld at the old rate, 18 per cent. President Johnson proposed that the rate be dropped to 14 per cent for the last ten months of the year.

Q: Why?

A: So that taxpayers, over the full year, would get about the same tax cut as was originally planned for 1964; and the economy would get the same amount of stimulus in spite of the legislative delay. Congress readily agreed.

Q: Couldn't the rate have been set at 15 per cent, with refunds at the year-end to make up the difference?

A: It could have. But then millions of taxpayers would have been over-withheld. They would not have received the full benefit of tax reduction until a year from now. And the spur to business and employment would have been lessened.

The wide discrepancy lasts only one year. In 1965 the second stage of the tax cut takes effect, and the income tax rates will move down somewhat closer to the withholding rate.

Q: But the withholding remains the same in 1965?

A: That's right. The employee's take-home pay will stay just the same as now; the withholding will still be at 14 per cent.

Q: Was there a political reason to under-withhold in an election year, making the first-year tax cut look bigger than it is?

A: Some Republicans have charged that Johnson wants to heat up the economy to insure re-election. They contend it may be overheated, with resulting risk of inflation and a recession in 1965. Administration officials deny there is either political motivation or grave inflationary threat. The full benefit of tax reduction will not be felt for two or three years, they contend, and serious price pressures won't be felt until much more idle machinery and manpower is put to work.

Q: But isn't there danger of a business letdown next year, when people have to write checks for the taxes not withheld?

A: The business advance could be slowed up if a lot of people who planned to buy cars or refrigerators are sending extra money to Uncle Sam instead. But government economists foresee no setback; the upward movement should be strong enough to absorb this relatively minor flow of money to the treasury.

Q: How could I increase my withholding tax?

A: You could ask your employer to drop one or more of your exemptions; that is, tell him not to count your wife, or

Penny Singleton Ends Old Feud with Union

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It all started because Penny Singleton wanted to drop in on a convention to meet some vaudevillians. Several years ago the famed Blondie of 44 movies and 12 years of radio was asked to attend the annual convention of the American Guild of Variety Artists at Disneyland. That is the union for variety, night-club, carnival, etc. performers, and Penny thought it would be fun to meet some of the trousters she had known as a child.

"So I went," she says, "and I had a great time seeing Smith and Dale and all the oldtimers." She didn't know that the chance event was to bring her six years and 19 days of personal hell.

Her ordeal ended Feb. 27 when she was reinstated to the AGVA board and given $15,000 in settlement of her claims against the union. Recently widowed, she is now of necessity turning back to her career. Her first engagement is a "Twilight Zone," which will appear on CBS April 3.

After Penny's visit to the Disneyland convention, she was asked to run for member of the national board of AGVA. She did and scored the highest vote in the union's history.

"I went to New York for the installation," she recalled, "and that was when I began to think something was awry. I listened to a lot of business being presented, and I didn't know what they were talking about.

"But I did notice that two of the officers presented different sets of figures concerning the same matter. I timidly began to ask questions. Then the admin-

Area Holstein Herd Completes Production Test

A new milk and butterfat production average for the Registered Holstein herd owned by Reuben Jones & Sons, Circleville, has been announced by The Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

The herd has completed its latest testing year with a per-cow average of 14,662 pounds of milk and 578 pounds of butterfat, based on 37 completed records.

Production averages are calculated on the commonly employed, two-milkings-a-day, 305-day, mature equivalent basis, providing a comparison standard for selection in Registered Holstein breeding programs.

one or more of the children. Each exemption dropped adds over $90 a year to your withholdings.

Q: That wouldn't be enough, in many cases.

A: True. The other method is simply to ask your employer to increase the withholding by an arbitrary amount. Most companies will do so, if the amount is in multiples of $5 to simplify the bookkeeping — $5, or $10, or $25, and so on.

Despite a growing feud with administrative officers, Penny advanced in the AGVA hierarchy and even served one term as president in 1958-59. The charges and countercharges grew in intensity, and she was suspended from the union, thus depriving her of the ability to work as a variety performer.

In 1961 AGVA began to come under the scrutiny of Sen. John J. McClellan's permanent subcommittee on investigations. Highly publicized hearings were held in 1962 at which Penny and others testified. Allegations of collusion and corruption within the union were made.

The committee's report in 1963 concluded that AGVA "not only has not defended the rights of its members but, in many cases, has operated against their interests."

Last month Penny accepted reinstatement and the $15,000 rather than pursue her case for damages.

"I'm alone now, and I need the money," she said.

LBJ To Toast Patron Saint of Ireland

NEW YORK (AP) — Come Tuesday next, around the shank end of the evening, Lyndon Baines Johnson, President of the United States, will celebrate St. Patrick's Day the way George Washington did.

He will lift his glass and toast Ireland's patron saint with the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick at a glittering five-wine banquet attended by the flower of the nation's Hibernian issue.

Other toasts also will be offered, but they won't be as many nor as magnificently worded as they were in Washington's day, when they ran to as many as 37 and included such remarkable gestures as: "May the sons of liberty never want roast beef nor claret."

And, finally: "To our noble selves."

Time and temperance have taken their toll, even on the toasting capacities of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, and bar whisky no longer sells for three cents a glass, as it did in the early days of the republic. These hardships notwithstanding, the dinner this year is expected to live up to its nearly two-century-old reputation of being, as an early history of New York put it, "the most pleasant, witty and agreeable gathering of its kind in the city."

By gracing the shamrock-strewn dais with his presence, Texas born and English-descended Lyndon Johnson will be carrying on a tradition that

besides Washington, includes Thomas Jefferson, Ulysses S. Grant, Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

As an organization, the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick antedates the republic. It was founded in Philadelphia on the 17th of March 1771, by Stephen Moylan, who was aide-de-camp to Washington at the siege of Boston and later quartermaster general of the Continental Army.

The chief object of the society was to supply immigrant Irishmen with reliable information on where to settle, help them find jobs, take care of them in sickness and want and, in general, to make smooth the process of Americanization.

Because of the notoriety given the Irish potato famine in the mid-1840s people tend to forget that the Irish were among the first immigrants to arrive in the new world in large numbers. Even before the Revolution, they left home at the rate of 3,000 a year and settled, for the most part, in the seaport cities. By 1754, New Yorkers were blaming the rising crime rate on Irish and German immigrants.

Cincinnati Faces Federal Gambling Trial

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — John O. Swarts, former commander of the Ohio wing of the Civil Air Patrol, was to go on trial today in U. S. District Court on charges of interstate travel to promote gambling.

More than three out of four Americans — or 77 per cent of the civilian population — now have some form of health insurance.

Alexander Hamilton, Thomas Jefferson, Robert Morris and others who held high rank in the Army, the Navy and the Cabinet were frequent guests at early meetings of the Friendly Sons. Washington, who attended fairly regularly, was unanimously adopted as a member of the Philadelphia society in 1781.

Washington signed the rules of the society on the same day as Dr. John Corcoran and William Constable, who two years later set about finding the New York Branch. Corcoran was surgeon general and director of hospitals for the Continental army. Constable was aide to Gen. Lafayette.

Area Holstein Herd Completes Production Test

A new milk and butterfat production average for the Registered Holstein herd owned by Reuben Jones & Sons, Circleville, has been announced by The Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

The herd has completed its latest testing year with a per-cow average of 14,662 pounds of milk and 578 pounds of butterfat, based on 37 completed records.

Ohio State University supervised the weighing and production testing in cooperation with the official herd improvement programs of the Holstein Association.

Production averages are calculated on the commonly employed, two-milking-a-day, 305-day, mature equivalent basis, providing a comparison standard for selection in Registered Holstein breeding programs.

one or more of the children. Each exemption dropped adds over $90 a year to your withholding.

Q: That wouldn't be enough, in many cases.

A: True. The other method is simply to ask your employer to increase the withholding by an arbitrary amount. Most companies will do so, if the amount is in multiples of $5 to simplify the bookkeeping — $5, or $10, or $25, and so on.

Despite a growing feud with administrative officers, Penny advanced in the AGVA hierarchy and even served one term as president in 1958-59. The charges and countercharges grew in intensity, and she was suspended from the union, thus depriving her of the ability to work as a variety performer.

In 1961 AGVA began to come under the scrutiny of Sen. John J. McClellan's permanent subcommittee on investigations. Highly publicized hearings were held in 1962 at which Penny and others testified. Allegations of collusion and corruption within the union were made.

The committee's report in 1963 concluded that AGVA "not only has not defended the rights of its members but, in many cases, has operated against their interests."

Last month Penny accepted reinstatement and the $15,000 rather than pursue her case for damages.

"I'm alone now, and I need the money," she said.

LBJ To Toast Patron Saint of Ireland

NEW YORK (AP) — Come Tuesday next, around the shank end of the evening, Lyndon Baines Johnson, President of the United States, will celebrate St. Patrick's Day the way George Washington did.

He will lift his glass and toast Ireland's patron saint with the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick at a glittering five-wine banquet attended by the flower of the nation's Hibernian issue.

With his pipes thus lubricated, Johnson himself will respond to the toast: "To the President of the United States."

Other toasts also will be offered, but they won't be as many nor as magnificently worded as they were in Washington's day, when they ran to as many as 37 and included such remarkable gestures as: "May the sons of liberty never want roast beef nor claret."

And: "May the enemies of Ireland never eat bread nor drink whisky, but be tormented with itching without benefit of scratching."

Time and temperance have taken their toll, even on the toasting capacities of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, and bar whisky no longer sells for three cents a glass, as it did in the early days of the republic. These hardships notwithstanding, the dinner this year is expected to live up to its nearly two-century-old reputation of being, as an early history of New York put it, "the most pleasant, witty and agreeable gathering of its kind in the city."

By gracing the shamrock-strewn dais with his presence, Texas born and English-descended Lyndon Johnson will be carrying on a tradition that

besides Washington, includes Thomas Jefferson, Ulysses S. Grant, Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, William Howard Taft, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

As an organization, the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick antedates the republic. It was founded in Philadelphia on the 17th of March 1771, by Stephen Moylan, who was aide-de-camp to Washington at the siege of Boston and later quartermaster general of the Continental Army.

The chief object of the society was to supply immigrant Irishmen with reliable information on where to settle, help them find jobs, take care of them in sickness and want and, in general, to make smooth the process of Americanization.

Because of the notoriety given the Irish potato famine in the mid-1840s people tend to forget that the Irish were among the first immigrants to arrive in the new world in large numbers. Even before the Revolution, they left home at the rate of 3,000 a year and settled, for the most part, in the seaport cities. By 1754, New Yorkers were blaming the rising crime rate on Irish and German immigrants.

Cincinnati Faces Federal Gambling Trial

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — John O. Swarts, former commander of the Ohio wing of the Civil Air Patrol, was to go on trial today in U. S. District Court on charges of interstate travel to promote gambling.

Swarts of Cincinnati is accused of carrying information sheets used by bookmakers across the stream on 19 occasions. He was arrested and indicted last year.

More than three out of four Americans — or 77 per cent of the civilian population — now have some form of health insurance.

Alexander Hamilton, Thomas Jefferson, Robert Morris and others who held high rank in the Army, the Navy and the Cabinet were frequent guests at early meetings of the Friendly Sons. Washington, who attended fairly regularly, was unanimously adopted as a member of the Philadelphia society in 1781.

Washington signed the rules of the society on the same day as Dr. John Corcoran and William Constable, who two years later set about finding the New York Branch. Corcoran was surgeon general and director of hospitals for the Continental army. Constable was aide to Gen. Lafayette.

Representatives Attend District Legislation Day

Mrs. Ronald C. Spence and Mrs. Norman Kutler, representing the Circleville Junior Womens Club, attended the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs District VII Legislation Day held at Westgate Methodist Church, Columbus.

The theme for the all-day meeting was "Legislation is Everybody's Business." Topics of state and federal issues were presented by speakers representing each side of the issue. The talks were followed by periods of questions and discussions.

Mrs. Ray Davis, Circleville, former state president, discussed the preservation of Memorial Forest, located south of Route 97 in Ashland County. She said the present state administration is trying to force the use of this land for commercial and private interests by converting it into a ski resort.

She stated that Memorial Forest, consisting of approximately 3,500 acres of land, was established and set apart by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio (Substitute Senate Bill No. 36, passed June 28, 1945) as a conservation forest, designated for all time a memorial to the valiant sons of Ohio who gave their lives in World War II.

Mrs. Davis said that since the then barren hills were appropriated by the state, the Federation of Women's Clubs worked with the conservation authorities and financed the planting of trees to cover this area. Memorial Forest has developed into a beautiful site and by the sale of lumber is self supporting. Approximately 1000 Gold Star Mothers attend memorial services at Memorial Forest each year.

She concluded by saying that, if the present state administration exercises its plans, the trees will be removed and the whole area defaced and altered. The Federation of Women's Clubs is making every effort to preserve the Memorial Forest, and it solicits the help of individuals, patriotic organizations, and all its club members.

The Civil Rights Bill was discussed by Rev. Gerald Gifford, Episcopal minister, and Robert Sherman, news analyst. "Youth of today" was discussed by Audrey Foley, Columbus Police Dept., relating to delinquency; and David Randall, principal of West High School. The Little Hoover Commission was reported upon by Mr. John M. Emery, coordinator for this group. A foreign aid discussion was presented by Judge Robert Van Heyde, and Robert Bolt, consulting engineer.

Kingston WSCS Convenes Burton Happy To Be Liz's Fifth Mate

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Kingston Methodist church was entertained Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. William Meadows. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Dorah Morris, Mrs. Asa Parks, and Mrs. William Edler.

Mrs. Curtis Pyle, president, called the meeting to order by the reading of scripture. After singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus", Mrs. Herbert Lemley presented devotions on the theme, "Eternal Salvation". She read the story of the resurrection from Mark and Jesus' appearance to the eleven when he said "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." "In the Garden" was then sung.

Mrs. Pyle gave the study entitled "The Breaking of Bread". She said it means sharing with others. The bread is a symbol of universal need, a sign of receiving Christ, and a sign of giving eternal life. In conclusion, she gave each member a piece of the broken bread, which they ate together, and then sang "Blest Be the Tie."

During the business portion the group voted to make the same financial pledge for next year. The World Banks were collected and a letter was read from Mrs. Winston Hood, who is leaving soon for her new home in Missouri.

Burton Happy To Be Liz's Fifth Mate

MONTREAL (AP) — "Elizabeth and I are very happy," said Richard Burton after he and Elizabeth Taylor were married Sunday in a quiet ceremony that contrasted sharply with their widely publicized romance.

The simple, single-ring ceremony was performed in the royal suite of Montreal's Ritz-Carlton Hotel by the Rev. Leonard Mason, pastor of the Unitarian Church of the Messiah. Eleven guests attended.

It was the fifth marriage for Miss Taylor, 32, one of the film world's highest paid and most beautiful stars. Burton, 38, son of a Welsh miner, had been married once.

The wedding was shrouded in secrecy. Eluding reporters in Toronto, the couple flew to Montreal in a chartered airliner and were whisked off to the hotel.

Dear Abby: Boycott the Bigot!

DEAR ABBY: Since we moved to this state, seven years ago, we've bought our eggs from the same egg man. Soon after the tragic death of our beloved President I went to buy our eggs as usual, so it was natural for me to say, "Wasn't it heartbreaking about Mr. Kennedy?" Abby, his reply was so cruel I can't even repeat it. In the past he has made remarks about "dirty Jews" and "niggers." But knowing that my religion was the same as President Kennedy's, I never expected him to say what he said. I told my husband that I will never again buy eggs from that man. My husband said I am foolish. His eggs are fresh and reasonable, and I shouldn't quit buying from him just because he is ignorant. I would like your opinion.

A WOMAN FROM N.H.
DEAR WOMAN: Ignorance is the least offensive of your egg man's shortcomings. Assure your husband that you can buy "fresh and reasonable" eggs from someone who is not so bigoted, vicious and destructive. Then prove it.

DEAR ABBY: My son is now 14 years old. My husband and I were divorced three years ago. The law officer told me at that time that when the boy reached the age of 13 he could choose which parent he wanted to live with. Well, he chose his father, and the officials told me that I couldn't even see the boy unless he wanted to come and see me. This week he came to my house. His shoes were worn out, his clothes were a mess, and he looked as though he hadn't had a haircut in six months. He had money in his pocket, though. I always kept him looking nice, Abby. What kind of laws do we have that let a 14-year-old boy go around looking like a bum? Or is there any such law? I think I have been tricked.

A BUM'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Your husband apparently is not looking after the boy properly. Talk this over with a lawyer, or go to the local Legal Aid Society and find out what can be done in a case like this.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the bride who neglected to acknowledge her wedding gifts: We have the same situation in our family. Our granddaughter was married last summer. We sent her a costly wedding gift, which she has yet to acknowledge. A thank-you note need not be over 20 words, and I am just ornery enough to see to it that the omission of those 20 words will cost that little brat exactly one thousand clams per word. That ought to flatten a few high hair-dos.

GRANDPA THE KNIFE
DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a person who quarrels in front of company?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: Not much. And it's good to remember that TWO is company.

Ohio Woman Poised for Global Flight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jerrie Mock figures she will garner her share of honors even if a possible California rival gets into the air first this week in an around-the-world flight attempt.

Mrs. Mock, a Columbus housewife, hopes to leave here Wednesday in her quest to be the first woman to pilot a light plane around the globe. Joan Merriam of Long Beach, Calif., plans to leave from Oakland, Calif., Tuesday.

Mrs. Mock's husband, Russell, says Miss Merriam's flight is not sanctioned by the Federation Aeronautique Internationale and can't be classified for any speed records. The Ohioan, if successful, will set the women's speed record for an around-the-world flight and the first globe-girdling by a plane in the 2,204-3,858-pound class, her husband says.

Mrs. Mock's route figures 3,000 miles shorter than that charted by Miss Merriam, who plans to follow the path of Amelia Earhart on the flight during which she vanished in the South Pacific in 1937. But Jerrie still would go 1,200 miles more than the minimum sanctioned for a flight around the world.

Kingston WSCS Convenes Burton Happy To Be Liz's Fifth Mate

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Kingston Methodist church was entertained Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. William Meadows. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Dorah Morris, Mrs. Asa Parks, and Mrs. William Edler.

Mrs. Curtis Pyle, president, called the meeting to order by the reading of scripture. After singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus", Mrs. Herbert Lemley presented devotions on the theme, "Eternal Salvation". She read the story of the resurrection from Mark and Jesus' appearance to the eleven when he said "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Boycott the Bigot!

DEAR ABBY: Since we moved to this state, seven years ago, we've bought our eggs from the same egg man. Soon after the tragic death of our beloved President I went to buy our eggs as usual, so it was natural for me to say, "Wasn't it heartbreaking about Mr. Kennedy?" Abby, his reply was so cruel I can't even repeat it. In the past he has made remarks about "dirty Jews" and "niggers." But knowing that my religion was the same as President Kennedy's, I never expected him to say what he said. I told my husband that I will never again buy eggs from that man. My husband said I am foolish. His eggs are fresh and reasonable, and I shouldn't quit buying from him just because he is ignorant. I would like your opinion.

A WOMAN FROM N.H.
DEAR WOMAN: Ignorance is the least offensive of your egg man's shortcomings. Assure your husband that you can buy "fresh and reasonable" eggs from someone who is not so bigoted, vicious and destructive. Then prove it.

ing after the boy properly. Talk this over with a lawyer, or go to the local Legal Aid Society and find out what can be done in a case like this.

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the bride who neglected to acknowledge her wedding gifts: We have the same situation in our family. Our granddaughter was married last summer. We sent her a costly wedding gift, which she has yet to acknowledge. A thank-you note need not be over 20 words, and I am just ornery enough to see to it that the omission of those 20 words will cost that little brat exactly one thousand clams per word. That ought to flatten a few high hair-dos.

GRANDPA THE KNIFE

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a person who quarrels in front of company?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: Not much. And it's good to remember that TWO is company.

Most Grapefruit League Pitchers behind Hitters

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This is the time of year when the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the hitters.

Maybe so, but those weren't grapefruits rattling off the walls Sunday, as the major leagues wound up the first big weekend of exhibition action. They were baseballs, and by the time they stopped bouncing the big leaguers had scored a total of 129 runs in 11 games.

However, one fellow was ahead of the batters. That was Warren Spahn.

Spahn allowed one hit in three innings, and Milwaukee went on to defeat the Washington Senators 2-0, in the only shutout of the day.

Elsewhere, the Pittsburgh Pirates had the biggest day at bat as they feasted on the pitching of the Kansas City Athletics for the second straight day. This time the score was 15-7, and the Pirates had seven home runs, including three by rookie infielder Gene Alley. The Pirates whipped the Athletics 14-1 Saturday.

The Baltimore Orioles also made it two in a row over the New York Yankees as they raked Stan Williams and his successors for nine runs in the second inning and won 10-1.

Minnesota had a six-run seventh inning in a 9-6 victory over Detroit. Jimmie Hall hit a three-run homer and Bob Allison a bases-loaded double.

Cincinnati had 17 hits as they battered the Chicago White Sox 11-7. The Sox fought back in the late innings as Charlie Smith hit two homers and J. C. Martin got one.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, touring in Mexico were beaten 8-5 by the Mexico City All-Stars who jumped on Dick Calmus for four runs in the eighth. It was the first loss for the Dodgers after two victories in Mexico.

The Cleveland Indians got a split on the day. The varsity ended a four-game losing streak with a 4-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs as rookie pitcher Gordon Seyfried drove in three runs and pitched four shutout innings.

The Los Angeles Angels rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth to trim the Cleveland "B" team 8-7.

The San Francisco Giants, with Bob Shaw going six innings, scored a 7-4 decision

Kansas State, Duke Sound New Warning

UCLA, Michigan Told To Beware 'Ides of March'

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Note to the UCLA and Michigan basketball teams: Here in the middle of March, it might be wise to brush up on your Shakespeare. "Beware," warned the bard, "The Ides of March."

He might have added that what happened in December doesn't count.

Vic Bubas of Duke and Tex Winter of Kansas State have voiced the same opinion, in slightly less poetic terms, perhaps, but it's the same idea. More like:

"They'd just better watch a little bit out."

Michigan is matched with Duke and UCLA with Kansas State in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball championships and in each case the top-ranked team owns a regular season victory over its Friday night opponent.

Top-ranked UCLA edged Kansas State 78-75 at Kansas and No. 2 Michigan romped over Duke 83-67 in December matches.

"I made a coaching mistake in that one," Bubas insists.

"Both teams have come a long way since then," said Winter. "We're a lot better now than we were then."

He reflected a moment, then added:

"UCLA's press is a lot like Wichita's. We handled them pretty well."

His Big Eight champion Wildcats ripped into the Shockers' press defense for a 94-86 triumph and the Midwest regional championship at Wichita Saturday.

Unbeaten UCLA came from behind for its 28th straight victory, a 76-72 edge over San Francisco for the Western regional title at Corvallis, Ore. Michigan clipped Ohio Univ. 69-57 for the Midwest title at Minneapolis and third-ranked Duke blasted Connecticut 101-54 for the Eastern crown at Raleigh, N.C.

In games for third place, Villanova beat Princeton 74-62 in the East, Texas Western took Creighton 63-52 in the Midwest, Chicago Loyola outscored Kentucky 100-91 in the Midwest and Seattle defeated Utah State 88-78 in the West.

In the quarter-finals of the National Invitation Tourney in Madison Square Garden, New York U. upset top-seeded DePaul 79-66 and Bradley edged St. Joseph's, Pa., 83-81. Drake stopped Pitt 87-82 and Army surprised St. Bonaventure 64-62 in first round games.

Rockhurst upset defending champion Pan American 66-56 and won the NAIA championship at Kansas City. Carson Newman beat Emporia State 73-60 for third place.

Clevelander Sets Pace In Bowling Tourney

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—After three weekends of competition, the singles leader of the Ohio men's bowling tournament is Bob Torrey of Cleveland. Torrey had a 748 after the weekend's bowling to take over first place.

Royals Hand Hawks Shock In NBA Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Royals, who barely missed breaking Boston's longstanding grip on the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division title, have assured San Francisco of no less than a piece of its first Western Division championship.

The Royals closed out their best NBA season ever by humiliating St. Louis 124-101 Sunday and dropping the Hawks two full games behind the Warriors in the West. St. Louis and San Francisco each have two games remaining and the Hawks must win both while the Warriors lose both to force a deadlock.

of the league standings—a distinction that carries with it the first pick in the college draft. But the Knicks wound up on the front end of a 139-125 point exchange with Detroit, leaving the Pistons with an outside shot at the sorriest season record.

In other games Boston drubbed Baltimore 129-105 and Los Angeles ripped Philadelphia 120-95.

Oscar Robertson's 25 points

and 15 assists paced Cincinnati to its 55th victory in 80 games but the Royals lost Adrian Smith in the third period when the backcourt man sprained his left ankle.

The Lakers dropped a 111-95 decision to San Francisco Saturday while Detroit nipped New York 126-124, Philadelphia topped Baltimore 128-122 and St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 118-110.

Hambletonian Boss Dies at Age 54

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Eugene J. Hayes, whose efforts were successful in bringing the Hambletonian trotting stake to this tradition-steeped harness racing community, died Sunday at the age of 54.

Hayes, president of the Du Quoin State Fair and co-sponsor of the Hambletonian, died in Good Samaritan Hospital in nearby Mount Vernon where he had undergone surgery for removal of a growth in his lower esophagus—the entry passage from the throat to the stomach.

Highest score ever turned in by a Lehigh wrestling team was a perfect 48-0 score against Brooklyn College in 1947.

Birdie Shy On Naming Tribe Hurlers

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) —With 22 hurlers in the Cleveland Indians' training camp, you wouldn't think there would be a shortage.

But Manager Birdie Tebbetts was able to name only one pitcher Sunday night for today's exhibition with the Boston Red Sox here. He said Sonny Siebert would work three or four innings, and he would have to wait until his pitching coach, Early Wynn, got back from Palm Springs today to decide who else would pitch.

The problem was created in part by the busy exhibition schedule that had the Indians playing five games in three days.

The manager said he was encouraged by Tommy John's performance against the Chicago Cubs Saturday. "He looked fast and loose," Tebbetts said. "I thought he did a good job. If his arm bothered him, he didn't say anything to me about it."

Gordon Seyfried turned in an impressive performance as the Indians defeated the Cubs Sunday, 4-1. That was one of two Sunday games played by Tribe squads. The other squads lost, 8-7, to the Los Angeles Angels at Palm Springs.

The Toronto International League baseball team is now owned by Robert Hunter and Sam Starr. They bought the club from Jack Kent Cooke.

Army quarterback Rollie Stichweh threw only seven passes in the recent Navy game. He completed three.

MISSING from last year's unit are Jack Cook, Garold Dade and Freddie Moore. Cook was an All-South Central Ohio League selection.

ALL - SCO players returning are Dave Bass at second base, pitcher, George Reeser and utility man Dave Greene. Last year Greene played outfield, shortstop and pitched.

Here is the schedule

Nicklaus Tutors Devlin to Victory

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Jack Nicklaus gave Bruce Devlin the word, and the word won him the $3,300 first prize in the $25,000 St. Petersburg Open Golf Tournament.

The young Australian, who credited the even younger American with helping him with his iron shots, used them to perfection Sunday as he coasted through the final round with a two-under-par 70. It gave him a 72-hole total of 272, four strokes better than Dan Sikes.

Sikes made a good run for the top money, with a four-under-par 68 over a wind-blown Lakewood Country Club course. But there was just no catching Devlin.

This is the time of year when the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the hitters.

Maybe so, but those weren't grapefruits rattling off the walls Sunday, as the major leagues wound up the first big weekend of exhibition action. They were baseballs, and by the time they stopped bouncing the big leaguers had scored a total of 129 runs in 11 games.

However, one fellow was ahead of the batters. That was Warren Spahn.

Spahn allowed one hit in three innings, and Milwaukee went on to defeat the Washington Senators 2-0, in the only shutout of the day.

Elsewhere, the Pittsburgh Pirates had the biggest day at bat as they feasted on the pitching of the Kansas City Athletics for the second straight day. This time the score was 15-7, and the Pirates had seven home runs, including three by rookie infielder Gene Alley. The Pirates whipped the Athletics 14-1 Saturday.

The Baltimore Orioles also made it two in a row over the New York Yankees as they raked Stan Williams and his successors for nine runs in the second inning and won 10-1.

Minnesota had a six-run seventh inning in a 9-6 victory over Detroit. Jimmie Hall hit a three-run homer and Bob Allison a bases-loaded double.

Cincinnati had 17 hits as they battered the Chicago White Sox 11-7. The Sox fought back in the late innings as Charlie Smith hit two homers and J. C. Martin got one.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, touring in Mexico were beaten 8-5 by the Mexico City All-Stars who jumped on Dick Calmus for four runs in the eighth. It was the first loss for the Dodgers after two victories in Mexico.

The Cleveland Indians got a split on the day. The varsity ended a four-game losing streak with a 4-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs as rookie pitcher Gordon Seyfried drove in three runs and pitched four shutout innings.

The Los Angeles Angels rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth to trim the Cleveland "B" team 8-7.

The San Francisco Giants, with Bob Shaw going six innings, scored a 7-4 decision

Ross Harness Men Hold Annual Fete

The second annual Ross County Harness Horsemen's Assn. banquet was held Saturday at Chillicothe.

Emmett Ebenhack, Route 2, a local farmer and standardbred trainer, is vice-president of the Ross Assn.

Attending the banquet from Circleville were Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Hara, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Merriman and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Young.

Nearly 140 harness enthusiasts heard speaker Earl Flora of the United States Trotting Assn. give a brief review of harness racing for the past year.

... ALSO ON the program was Dr. J. P. Gardner, Kingston veterinarian who is well known for his original poems on horses. Two films, one of them of the 1963 Little Brown Jug, were shown.

Kansas State, Duke Sound New Warning

UCLA, Michigan Told To Beware 'Ides of March'

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Note to the UCLA and Michigan basketball teams: Here in the middle of March, it might be wise to brush up on your Shakespeare. "Beware," warned the bard, "The Ides of March."

He might have added that what happened in December doesn't count.

Vic Bubas of Duke and Tex Winter of Kansas State have voiced the same opinion, in slightly less poetic terms, perhaps, but it's the same idea. More like:

"They'd just better watch a little bit out."

Michigan is matched with Duke and UCLA with Kansas State in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball championships and in each case the top-ranked team owns a regular season victory over its Friday night opponent.

Top-ranked UCLA edged Kansas State 78-75 at Kansas and No. 2 Michigan romped over Duke 83-67 in December matches.

"I made a coaching mistake in that one," Bubas insists.

"Both teams have come a long way since then," said Winter. "We're a lot better now than we were then."

He reflected a moment, then added:

"UCLA's press is a lot like Wichita's. We handled them pretty well."

His Big Eight champion Wildcats ripped into the Shockers' press defense for a 94-86 triumph and the Midwest regional championship at Wichita Saturday.

Unbeaten UCLA came from behind for its 28th straight victory, a 76-72 edge over San Francisco for the Western regional title at Corvallis, Ore. Michigan clipped Ohio Univ. 69-57 for the Midwest title at Minneapolis and third-ranked Duke blasted Connecticut 101-54 for the Eastern crown at Raleigh, N.C.

In games for third place, Villanova beat Princeton 74-62 in the East, Texas Western took Creighton 63-52 in the Midwest, Chicago Loyola outscored Kentucky 100-91 in the Midwest and Seattle defeated Utah State 88-78 in the West.

In the quarter-finals of the National Invitation Tourney in Madison Square Garden, New York U. upset top-seeded DePaul 79-66 and Bradley edged St. Joseph's, Pa., 83-81. Drake stopped Pitt 87-82 and Army surprised St. Bonaventure 64-62 in first round games.

Rockhurst upset defending champion Pan American 66-56 and won the NAIA championship at Kansas City. Carson Newman beat Emporia State 73-60 for third place.

Clevelanders Sets Pace In Bowling Tourney

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—After three weekends of competition, the singles leader of the Ohio men's bowling tournament is Bob Torrey of Cleveland. Torrey had a 748 after the weekend's bowling to take over first place.

Shelby Owls Club No. 2553 rolled a 3056 to tie the Ansberg West Mortuary of Toledo for first place in team competition, while Roy Shirk and Jack Roberts of Marion remained the top doubles team with 1298.

Toledo Girls Lead In State Pin Meet

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—It's a statewide event, but the weekend's action made most of the first place honors strictly Toledo property in the 38th Ohio Women's Bowling Association handicap tournament.

Marcella Neilson of Toledo grabbed first place in singles with 697, Ruth Southard of Toledo became the all-events (scratch) leader with 631-590-563-1794, and Perryburg Grain of Toledo's Rossford suburb took the team lead with 3075.

Army quarterback Rollie Stichweh threw only seven passes in the recent Navy game. He completed three.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Royals, who barely missed breaking Boston's longstanding grip on the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division title, have assured San Francisco of no less than a piece of its first Western Division championship.

The Royals closed out their best NBA season ever by humiliating St. Louis 124-101 Sunday and dropping the Hawks two full games behind the Warriors in the West. St. Louis and San Francisco each have two games remaining and the Hawks must win both while the Warriors lose both to force a deadlock.

Birdie Shy On Naming Tribe Hurlers

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—With 22 hurlers in the Cleveland Indians' training camp, you wouldn't think there would be a shortage.

But Manager Birdie Tebbetts was able to name only one pitcher Sunday night for today's exhibition with the Boston Red Sox here. He said Sonny Siebert would work three or four innings, and he would have to wait until his pitching coach, Early Wynn, got back from Palm Springs today to decide who else would pitch.

The problem was created in part by the busy exhibition schedule that had the Indians playing five games in three days.

The manager said he was encouraged by Tommy John's performance against the Chicago Cubs Saturday. "He looked fast and loose," Tebbetts said. "I thought he did a good job. If his arm bothered him, he didn't say anything to me about it."

Gordon Seyfried turned in an impressive performance as the Indians defeated the Cubs Sunday, 4-1. That was one of two Sunday games played by Tribe squads. The other squads lost, 8-7, to the Los Angeles Angels at Palm Springs.

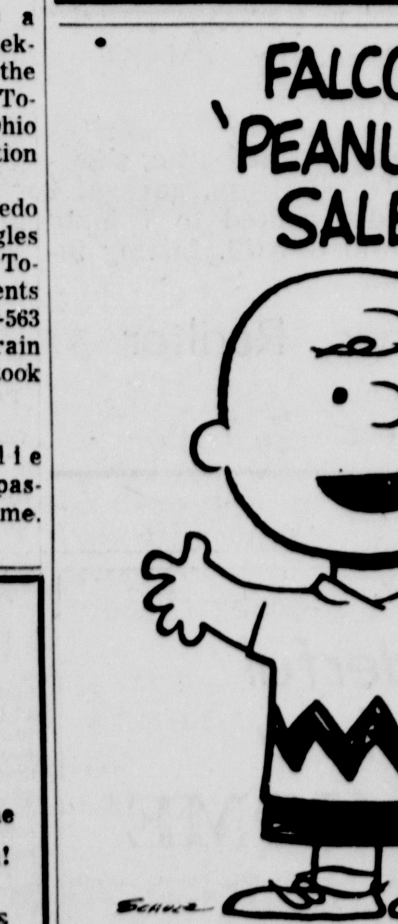

The Toronto International League baseball team is now owned by Robert Hunter and Sam Starr. They bought the club from Jack Kent Cooke.

of the league standings—a distinction that carries with it the first pick in the college draft. But the Knicks wound up on the front end of a 139-125 point exchange with Detroit, leaving the Pistons with a outside shot at the sorriest season record.

In other games Boston drubbed Baltimore 129-105 and Los Angeles ripped Philadelphia 120-95.

Oscar Robertson's 25 points

and 15 assists paced Cincinnati to its 55th victory in 80 games but the Royals lost Adrian Smith in the third period when the backcourt man sprained his left ankle.

The Lakers dropped a 111-95 decision to San Francisco Saturday while Detroit nipped New York 126-124, Philadelphia topped Baltimore 128-122 and St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 118-110.

Hambletonian Boss Dies at Age 54

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Eugene J. Hayes, whose efforts were successful in bringing the Hambletonian trotting stake to this tradition-steeped harness racing community, died Sunday at the age of 54.

Hayes, president of the Du Quoin State Fair and co-sponsor of the Hambletonian, died in Good Samaritan Hospital in nearby Mount Vernon where he had undergone surgery for removal of a growth in his lower esophagus—the entry passage from the throat to the stomach.

Hayes and his brother, Don, were instrumental in getting the Hambletonian — the Kentucky Derby of harness racing—to Du Quoin in 1957.

Highest score ever turned in by a Lehigh wrestling team was a perfect 48-0 score against Brooklyn College in 1947.

P. E. MASHEVER
DIRECTOR

Mar. 16, 23.

He discussed subjects that ranged from Bobby Baker and Robert F. Kennedy to Henry Cabot Lodge and Charles de Gaulle. He covered much ground, but the principal result of the program was to give the public its first real chance to see the President on an informal basis.

His interviewers — William Lawrence of ABC, Eric Sevareid of CBS and David Brinkley of NBC — acted like well-mannered guests in the President's home.

President Johnson seemed slightly nervous at the beginning of the program, but became more relaxed and easier as the time passed.

There were none of the Kennedy leavenings of wit in the exchanges—Johnson did not even smile often.

Actually, he did not say very much on any one subject, but he never really ducked one during the hour.

A few of those bright, light moments of Kennedy repartee were shown Friday night after Robert F. Kennedy's memoir of his brother on NBC's Jack Paar program. They were films from various press conferences.

In spite of the time, money and effort that the networks poured into covering the New Hampshire primary, preliminary audience surveys indicate that most members' television viewers preferred the usual entertainment shows.

A ratings study made in the New York metropolitan area showed that while NBC was broadcasting its mid-evening politics special, most viewers were tuned to Red Skelton on CBS. When CBS was showing its special report, most viewers moved on to ABC's "Greatest Show on Earth."

Recommended tonight: "East Side, West Side," CBS, 10-11 (EST)—George C. Scott as a social worker in the series of sociological dramas.

Redlegs Need Relief Hurler, New Robby

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — "If we get another relief pitcher and if Robby has the kind of season he had in 1962, we'll be tough." This is the way Manager Fred Hutchinson views his Cincinnati Reds' hopes this year.

Frank Robinson (Robby) says he feels fine and should have a great season—and his spring training performance thus far shows signs that he has returned to his form of old.

The bullpen situation is something else again. It is no secret in the Reds' training camp that they would very much like to pick up a top reliever to give a hand to aging Bill Henry and Al Worthington.

Henry, 36, had a 1-3 record and an earned run average of 4.15 last season, while Worthington, 34, was 4-4 with a 3.00 ERA. Between them, the relievers had 23 saves.

"I'm confident that we won't have any problems at the two corners of the infield when it's time to break camp, but I'm not quite as sure about the bullpen, unless we're successful in making one of the several trades we have in mind," Hutchinson said.

NE Ohio Teams Dominate Meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — If the northeastern district can make it a numerical advantage stand up, one of its representatives should take Ohio's Class AA high school cage crown this weekend.

The area, one of six set up by the Ohio High School Athletic Association, boasts only 192 of the 513 big schools in the state—but three of the four finalists in the basketball title chase are from there.

This is the first time any area has won such overwhelming representation—and it left the eastern, central, southeastern and northwestern districts with no one to root for.

Only Dayton Belmont, the state's top-ranked team, stands in the way of a northeastern sweep in the Friday-Saturday frays at St. John Arena.

But if the Gem City Bison can get by second-ranked Canton McKinley Friday in the semifinals, they will be favored to give the southwestern district its 21st Class AA crown in 42 tries. The northeast has won six, the east six, central five and the southeast and northwest two each.

McKinley, tall and rugged, has been the biggest disappointment the tournament has ever known—but this could be the Bulldog year. Since 1924 the Bulldogs have been in the state meet 14 times—along with several trips to the regionals which are now counted as part of the big playoff—but they have lost five times in the semifinals and five times in the championship game — without ascending the throne.

McKinley and Belmont go into action with 24-1 records. The Gem City team has an 82-point offensive average to McKinley's 67.6, but the Bulldogs have allowed only 47.2 to Belmont's 54.7. Belmont is in the classic for the first time.

Elyria (18-7) is back after a year's lapse. Cleveland East last made it in 1924 as a quarter-finalist. East has a 21-3 record and averages 73.1 on offense and 52.9 on defense. Elyria has manufactured only 54.9 per game while holding the foe to 47.8.

Celina ICHS, second ranked in the final Associated Press Class A poll, leads the small school quartet with a 78.7 scoring mark and 53.3 on defense. Piqua Catholic, Celina's Friday foe, is 65.7 and 54.4. ICHS has a 26-1 record, Piqua Catholic 21-3, and one of the losses was 84-57 to the Celina team in regular season play.

Dresden Jefferson's defending Class A champs (23-2) have the poorest scoring average and the best defensive mark in the small.

Chuck Davey, four-time NCAA boxing champion while at Michigan State, is on Michigan's Athletic Board of Control which governs pro boxing in that state.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

WORK WEEK: The U.S. Chamber of Commerce has rejected as unworkable a demand by organized labor for a 35-hour week to spread jobs and reduce unemployment.

"Unless labor is immune to economic law, a shorter work week with higher pay would tend to create unemployment," the chamber said Saturday in a new publication, "Economics of the Shorter Work Week."

The report by the chamber's economic policy committee contended that cutting the work week would boost production costs by from 14 to 29 per cent, increase prices and reduce consumption.

AFL - CIO President George Meany has set the 35-hour week as the major goal of his 13.5 million-member federation.

Neither Meany nor the AFL-CIO had any comment on the chamber's article.

BYRD: Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., a veteran of 31 years in the Senate, says he'll seek a new six-year term in November.

The 77-year-old Byrd, chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee, had indicated six years ago that his current term would be his last.

HIDDEN MILLIONS: Two Republican senators have charged that defense and space officials may be secretly spending millions of dollars without knowledge of Congress and taxpayers.

Sens. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Gordon Allott of Colorado, appearing Sunday on a program taped for Pennsylvania radio stations, cited as evidence President Johnson's recent announcement that the 2,000-mile-an-hour A-11 aircraft had been developed secretly.

"It was indeed a shock to me," said Allott, a member of the Appropriations Committee. He said he has learned that only four of the committee's 27 members knew about the project.

Akron Sheriff Doubts Man's Confession

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Summit County Sheriff Robert Campbell says he doubts the validity of a "confession" allegedly made by William J. Lewis in the slaying of a second girl.

Lewis, an illiterate peddler from Hubbard, already is charged with the August 1962 strangling of 12-year-old Marion Brubaker of Portage Lakes. Campbell said Lewis, 49, made a second "confession" concerning 12-year-old Ruth Guthrie of Tallmadge but later repudiated that story.

Sheriff's deputies and police from Tallmadge, Stow and Cuyahoga Falls used a mine detector and bulldozer to dig in a wooded area off Ohio 91 in Tallmadge over the weekend. Nothing was found. It was in that area, the sheriff said, that Lewis is told of burying Miss Guthrie's body.

The girl has been missing since June 12, but the sheriff thinks she may still be alive. "Maybe all this publicity will bring her to make her whereabouts known," Campbell said.

After abandoning the search in Tallmadge Sunday night, the sheriff said no further digging was planned unless some new evidence warrants resuming the search.

Cement Boat Heads Out into Lake Erie

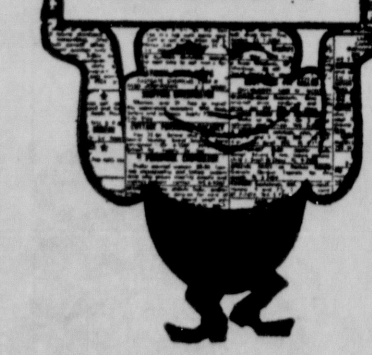

CLEVELAND (AP)—A cement boat, the S T. Crapo, was headed for Alpena, Mich., today, the first vessel out of Cleveland this year. The Crapo, equipped with a bow thruster to aid in navigation of the Cuyahoga River's tricky bends, steamed down the river and into the lake Sunday.

Ashland Oil Forms New Crude Division

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Spurred by its steadily increasing production in Ohio's Morrow County, the Ashland Oil Refining Co. has formed a new division for crude oil exploration and production in Ohio and Michigan.

The firm, with more than 300,000 acres under lease in Ohio, has set up temporary division headquarters in Mount Gilead, center of the Buckeye boom, and will put permanent headquarters in Columbus.

Kiwanis Club To Hear Talk By Connelly

Father Richard J. Connelly, pastor of St. Colman Church in Washington C. H., will be guest speaker at today's dinner meeting of the Circleville Kiwanis Club.

A highlight of the evening will be the club's annual recognition of the local farming industry. Many area farmers have been invited as special guests.

Father Connelly, a native of Newark, served 18 years as chaplain for the Cleveland Browns professional football team. He is considered a renowned spokesman on Irish history and has served as chaplain for many state and national organizations.

The noted after dinner speaker attended the University of Dayton, St. Joseph's College in Indiana, Harvard University, St. Charles College in Columbus and St. Vincent's Seminary in Latrobe, Pa.

FATHER CONNELLY

Father Connelly was overseas for 32 months during World War II, serving in Africa and Europe as a major in the Chaplain Corps. He was awarded the Bronze Star, Silver Star and five Battle Stars.

ON A WILD GOOSE CHASE?—Game protectors at Altoona, Pa., estimate that some 5,000 Canadian geese and mallards were forced down on three reservoirs by a driving snow-storm while migrating north for spring.

Business Briefs

Marathon Oil Co. in 1963 became established as an international oil company with a broader base of profitability, J. C. Donnell II, president, told shareholders in the company's 76th annual report.

Noting that Marathon's net income of $49,125,000 for the year, as previously reported, was 29.7 per cent higher than earnings in 1962, Donnell added: "Even more meaningful than the substantial measure of this advance in net income is the fundamental change in the character of the company which it reflects. While expanding our well-established domestic petroleum activity, we sharply increased our production of crude oil in Libya. The search for new crude oil reserves continued in many countries around the world, and construction of two refineries in Europe moved rapidly toward completion."

Marathon is now participating in the more rapid pace of the petroleum industry's expansion abroad, he said, and the company's Libyan production will again be substantially higher in 1964.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:
WORK WEEK: The U.S. Chamber of Commerce has rejected as unworkable a demand by organized labor for a 35-hour week to spread jobs and reduce unemployment.

"Unless labor is immune to economic law, a shorter work week with higher pay would tend to create unemployment," the chamber said Saturday in a new publication, "Economics of the Shorter Work Week."

The report by the chamber's economic policy committee contended that cutting the work week would boost production costs by from 14 to 29 per cent, increase prices and reduce consumption.

AFL - CIO President George Meany has set the 35-hour week as the major goal of his 13.5 million-member federation.

Neither Meany nor the AFL-CIO had any comment on the chamber's article.

BYRD: Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., a veteran of 31 years in the Senate, says he'll seek a new six-year term in November.

The 77-year-old Byrd, chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee, had indicated six years ago that his current term would be his last.

HIDDEN MILLIONS: Two Republican senators have charged that defense and space officials may be secretly spending millions of dollars without knowledge of Congress and taxpayers.

Sens. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Gordon Allott of Colorado, appearing Sunday on a program taped for Pennsylvania radio stations, cited as evidence President Johnson's recent announcement that the 2,000-mile-an-hour A-11 aircraft had been developed secretly.

"It was indeed a shock to me," said Allott, a member of the Appropriations Committee. He said he has learned that only four of the committee's 27 members knew about the project.
